HITCH IN THE PEACE PLANS NOW AVERTED

Details for Pacification of Mexico Practically Have Been Worked Out

AGREE ON LAND QUESTION

Vital Points in Negotiations Reached and Passed by the Mediators

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 26.—The actual terms and details of a plan for the pacification of Mexico are now under discussion by the mediation conference, according to an announcement by Justice Lamar tonight. An early agreement is anticipated.

The turn in the proceedings from a point where it seemed as though the land problem might cause serious embarrassment, to an understanding as to the treatment of some of the delicate issues involved, came after a conference between the mediators and the American delegates.

In his announcement Justice Lamar said:

"On a number of details we find ourselves in substantial agreement, others are still under discussion, but as to them there has been no disagreement."

Vital Points Reached.

From the mediators themselves it was learned that some of the vital points had been reached today. These are understood to include the manner in which the present regime in Mexico City would give way to a new provisional government.

That General Huerta had given consent to the program thus far outlined here, was one of the reports from reliable sources.

The Mexican delegates as well as the Americans are anxious that the transition in Mexico City shall be smooth and unattended by disturbances. So they are approaching the question of personnel for the new government with a consciousness of the sensibilities of the Mexican people.

Mexicans Suggest Plan.

Desiring to avoid the appearance of having had their provisional president chosen at an international conference, the Mexican delegates have evolved the plan of suggesting to the mediators a list of names from which might be selected a number on whom the United States would look with favor, if from it were chosen an ad interim executive. The actual choice of an individual from the list of eligibles would be sanctioned, it is suggested, by the Mexican congress. There is reason to believe, however, that before any list is approved by the American government, some tacit indorsement from the Constitutionalists must come. It is assumed here that the Washington government would be willing to assume the responsibility of trying to bring the Constitutionalists into harmony with a provisional government thus created.

The plan of pacification so far as developed, is known to be simple. Its object is the establishment of a new provisional government. As a program for it, there will be a declaration of

CABINET IS HOPEFUL OF MEDIATION PLANS

Officials Expect Protocol to Be Signed in Few Days With Mexico

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Members of the cabinet were optimistic today after an exhaustive review of all communications that have passed between President Wilson and the American commissioners to the Mexican mediation conference at Niagara Falls. It was asserted that a preliminary basis for peaceful solution of the international difficulties had been reached. This, it was said, soon would take the form of a protocol which probably would be signed by agents of General Huerta's government and the United States.

Among the messages received from the seat of the peace conference was one confirmatory of press dispatches that one of Huerta's envoys had declared that the agrarian question would not be permitted to disrupt the international effort to avert war between the United States and Mexico, and to insure the ultimate restoration of peace to all Mexico.

Some of the Carranza agents in Washington regarded as probable that some representatives of the revolutionary movement eventually would be sent to Niagara Falls. It was their opinion, however, that none would be sent until an actual protocol had been drawn, ready for signature by the agents of Huerta and the United States.

The purpose of the Constitutionalists, it was made plain, was to keep out of preliminary negotiations which would in any way check the onward march of their forces toward the capital at Mexico City.

JACOB A. RIIS DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Was Noted Author and Social Worker Who Devoted Life to Aid Poorer Classes

BARRE, Mass., May 26.—Jacob A. Riis, author and social worker, died at his home here today after a long illness.

Mrs. Riis and a son were at Mr. Riis' bedside when the end came. Mr. Riis was brought here about two weeks ago from a sanatorium at Battle Creek, Mich., where he had been a patient for several months, taking treatment for heart trouble of long standing.

Jacob August Riis became, through his work in behalf of the poorer people in New York, "the most useful citizen" of the metropolis, according to a tribute once paid to him by Theodore Roosevelt, his intimate friend.

As an almost penniless immigrant he obtained knowledge of the slums at first hand and found conditions there so repellant that he consecrated his whole life to warfare against wretchedness.

Spurned Literary Career.

Riis was the thirteenth child of a Latin teacher in Ribe, Jutland, Denmark. He was born in 1849. Protesting at the literary career which his father had cut out for him, young Riis decided to work with his hands and became a carpenter's apprentice. The vocation he had chosen did not prevent him, however, from falling in love with Elizabeth Nielson, daughter of one of the richest men in his native town. But she refused him, and when Riis was 21 years old, having learned his trade, he embarked for New York with only $40 in his pocket. He spent half the sum for a heavy navy pistol as soon as he landed to "fight Indians and desperadoes."

Riis led a varied career during the following six years. He built miners' huts in a Pennsylvania construction camp, mined coal, made bricks, drove a team, and peddled flat irons and books. At 27 he spent his last cent in reaching New York, hoping to enlist through the French consul in the French army against Germany for the Franco-Prussian war, but his services were refused, and Riis was forced to accept a beginner's place as a reporter for a New York news bureau. At the very first he made his most conspicu-

HINDUS ARE TURNED BACK BY CANADIANS

East Indians Insist They Are British Subjects and Entitled to Land

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 26.—The steamship Komagata Maru, on which Gurdit Singh, a wealthy Hindu, arrived last week with 375 of his countrymen, brought at his expense, is still detained in the harbor. Immigration officials say only a lame attempt was made by the immigrants to comply with the health regulations.

The Hindus demand admission as British subjects. Gurdit Singh says in effect:

"We are British subjects. Keep us out if you dare. Think of the consequences to the British empire in India."

"Have you come direct from the land of your birth?" asked Immigration Superintendent Reid today.

"No," replied the Hindu's spokesman. "None of us has come from India directly. Some shipped at Hong Kong, others at Shanghai. But what matters that? We are citizens of the empire and can travel where we wish. That regulation you speak of was made for foreigners."

"Have you the necessary $200 each?" asked the inspector.

"No, some of us have only a few dollars. We do not take seriously the regulation that immigrants should have $200 each. How can it apply to British subjects?"

"But," urged the superintendent, "did you not know that no workmen or artisans, even from Great Britain or the United States, are allowed to cross the borders into Canada just now?"

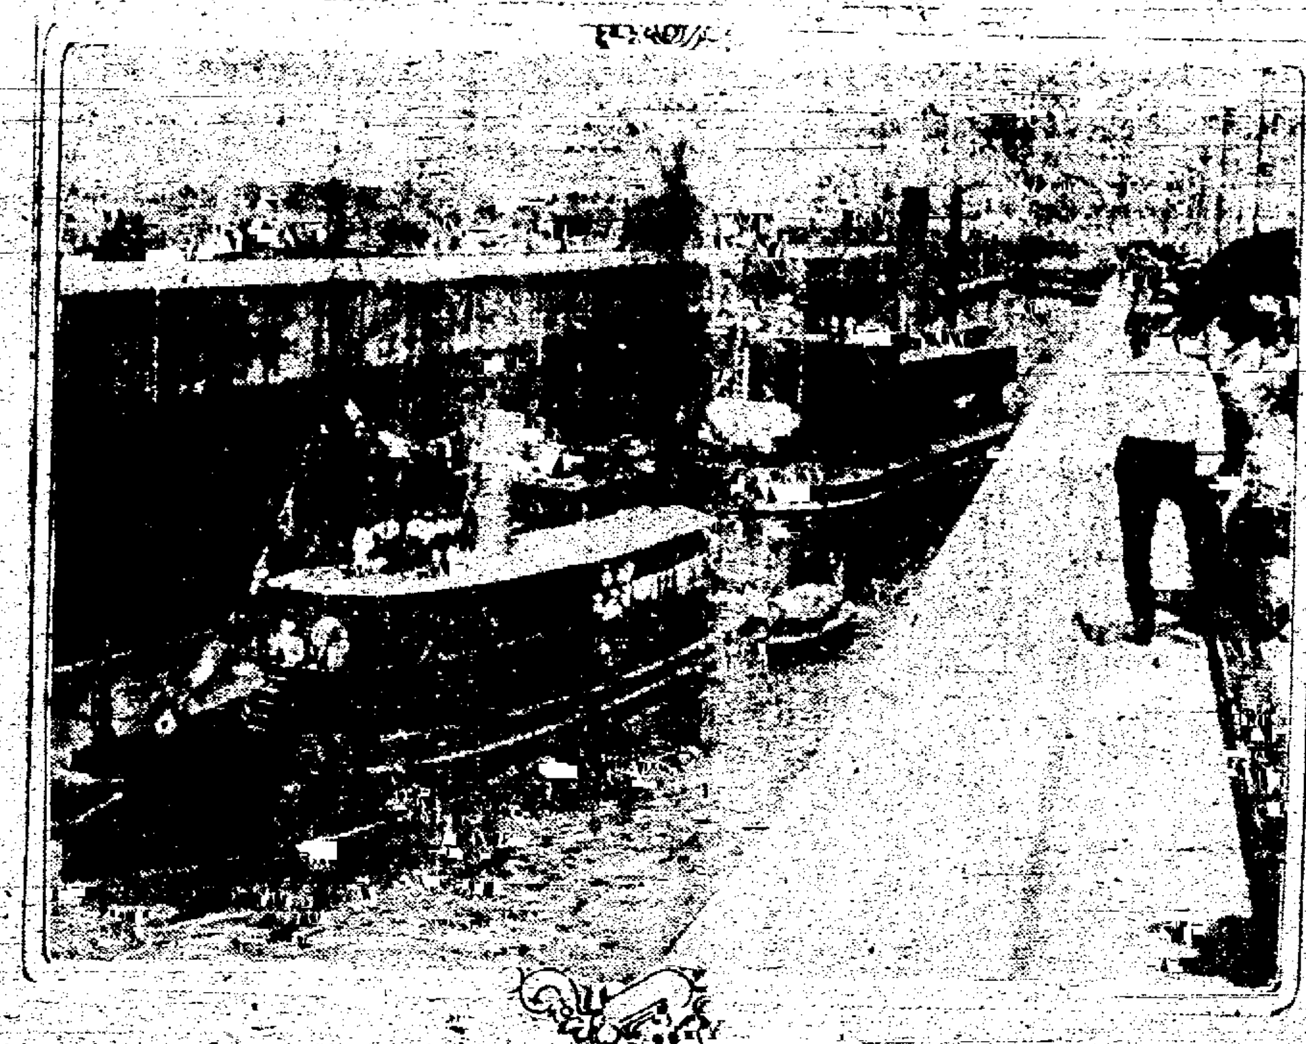

"That can hardly apply against us, for our men are farmers. There are many thousands more who are watching our experience here and will come too if we get in. Many of them are trained farmers."

Not Single Head Is Broken in Ireland on Home Rule Bill

LONDON, May 26.—The passage of the home rule bill has not led to the breaking of a single head in Ireland. The predictions made by certain Unionists that its final adoption by the house of commons would be followed by fierce outbursts in Ulster and sanguinary conflicts between the Orangemen and the Nationalists have proved to be untrue thus far.

"Belfast is as quiet as a well-ordered sewing meeting," is the admission of one of the Unionist newspapers.

The authorities, civil and military, are keeping watch and trains are held at stations with steam up in readiness to rush troops or armed police wherever they might be needed to suppress riots, which nearly everybody thought were bound to occur.

REBELS VICTORIOUS IN FOUR-DAY BATTLE

Success Opens Way to the West Coast City of Guaymas

DOUGLAS, Ariz., May 26.—Telling of a four days' battle before Guaymas, during which the federals were forced to retire to their trenches, a telegram was received here today from General Alvarado, who led the Constitutionalist forces. The fighting began May 22, when the federals forced back a small force of Constitutionalists.

Desultory firing continued until May 25, when heavy insurgent reinforcements arrived and the federals were forced to retire. On the night of May 25, the routing of the federals was completed, they retiring to the trenches on the edge of the city.

According to the [illegible] federal losses are described as very heavy, while the Constitutionalist losses were slight.

Federals Defeated.

NOGALES, Ariz., May 26.—General Alvarado telegraphed here today that his advance guard was attacked May 22 near La Passion by a force of federals, who were defeated. Next day about 1,000 federal infantry and 250 cavalry, with several machine guns, drove the Constitutionalists back to Palma, where the main body reinforced them and finally defeated the federals on May 25.

The federals lost 70 killed and more than twice as many wounded.

Included among the killed is General Rivero, one colonel and several other officers. General Santibanez was mortally wounded. The Constitutionalists lost two killed and one captured. General Alvarado states that the result of the battle opens the way to Guaymas.

G. O. P.-Democratic Fusion This Fall Is Urged by Goudy

DENVER, May 26.—Fusion of the Republican and Democratic parties of Colorado at the coming election was urged tonight by Frank C. Goudy, former lieutenant governor, at a meeting of the Denver Republican club.

HEAT WAVE EXTENDS ACROSS THE COUNTRY

NEW YORK, May 26.—This was the hottest day of the year thus far in New York city. Half a dozen prostrations were reported. Not for 31 years has the temperature climbed so high before on May 26 as it did this afternoon, when it reached 90 degrees.

BALTIMORE, May 26.—According to weather bureau reports, Baltimore was the hottest city in the United States today. The official maximum temperature was 94 degrees at 3 p. m. Two prostrations were reported.

KANSAS CITY, May 26.—A new heat record for the [illegible] in western Missouri and eastern Kansas was established today. St. Joseph reported a temperature of 98 degrees, and at Topeka, Kan., the mercury also reached that figure.

AMERICANS REFUSE TO LEAVE YAQUI COUNTRY

Urge National Prohibition and Condemn Cigarette Smoking in Report

CHICAGO, May 26.—Members of the one hundred and twenty-sixth general assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America today went on record as favoring national prohibition, indorsed the national administration, the state department and the navy department for their action in support of the temperance movement, urged ministers, and church members to withdraw from clubs and [illegible] alcoholic beverages, and condemned cigarette smoking.

The subjects were submitted to the assembly in the report of the standing committee on temperance, which was presented by Rev. J. P. Calhoun of Knoxville, Tenn., and adopted without discussion.

Rev. J. F. Williamson offered a resolution urging that the Sheppard-Hobson national prohibition bill be amended so as to exempt wines used for sacramental purposes. It was referred to the standing committee on temperance without being discussed.

Meet in Rochester Next Year.

The assembly decided to hold its one hundred and twenty-seventh annual session in Rochester, N. Y., next May.

Rev. H. H. McQuilkin of California presented the report of the standing committee on colleges, which showed that last year $1,100,555 had been expended in the work of Christian education, a decrease of $14,000, compared with the previous year. He described the secular university as a "spiritual refrigerator."

STRIKE LEADERS FEAR ARREST IN SOUTHERN FIELD?

TRINIDAD, May 26.—Fearing that attorneys for the operators in southern Colorado are planning to cause the arrest of all the strike leaders now active in the conduct of the strike, the United Mine Workers, according to William Diamond, purpose that new organizers now being brought in will carry on the work.

Mr. Diamond made this explanation of the entrance of eastern organizers into the field today to Colonel Lockett, commander of the federal troops here. Diamond was in conference with Colonel Lockett for some time and the strike leader advised the federal commander that it would be the policy of the organization to cooperate to the fullest extent with the federal authorities in the various camps of the district where the new organizers would be stationed. Colonel Lockett tonight had no statement to make relative to the matter.

An investigation by Captain Cushman of the shooting upon the federal patrol at Segundo last night failed to locate any persons participating in the affair.

Colonel Lockett tomorrow will be served with a request from the city council and the chamber of commerce to grant permission for the saloons in the city to open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. The saloons were closed by order of the mayor on April 20, and upon the arrival of the federal soldiers on April 30 an order to the same effect was issued by Maj. W. A. Holbrook, commander of the Fifth cavalry.

FEDERALS OFFERED LIMITED AMNESTY

Rebel General Gives Defeated Soldiers Opportunity to Join His Army

TAMPICO, May 25.—(Delayed in transmission.)—General [illegible] issued a decree today granting amnesty to all federals retreating from Tampico, amnesty being limited to two weeks. It is explained that this action was taken so that the dispersed federals might know they were not being pushed and to prevent the destruction of property by the fugitive soldiers.

All here of the Constitutionalists cutting off the retreat of Gen. Morelos Zaragoza, [illegible] with the return of Colonel [illegible], who had been despatched with 1,000 men in pursuit of the former commander of the federal garrison at Tampico.

The federals, numbering approximately 3,000, he reported, were moving in a southwesterly direction toward the interior, about 70 miles from Tampico.

Rebels Control Coast.

Advices from Tuxpam that women and children were being placed aboard the barge San Eduardo gave rise to the report that the federals were planning to attack the Constitutionalists there, but there is no confirmation of this. So far as known here the Constitutionalists are in absolute control of the coast and of the region many miles inland.

The scarcity of bills of small denomination and fractional currency continues to embarrass business. The merchants who were inclined to increase prices received a pointed object lesson today when an official decree was issued fixing moderate prices for meats.

Wire communication between Tampico and the border was restored today by way of Ciudad Victoria, [illegible] and Matamoros.

The United States monitor Ozark relieved the cruiser Des Moines in the river today.

Municipal Ownership of Frisco Street Car System Is Predicted

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—Municipal ownership of the United railroads, which operates most of the traction lines in San Francisco, is a possible outcome of censure pronounced a few days ago by the railroad commission on the traction corporation following former President Patrick Calhoun's investment of $1,096,000 in an irrigated farms project.

"I frankly believe that the municipal ownership of the United railroads would be the best solution of the controversy between the corporation and the commission," said Jesse R. Lilienthal, who succeeded Calhoun as president today.

Sociability Party Due This Morning

All Colorado Springs is requested to be at the Santa Fe station this morning to greet the returning Sociability party, which is scheduled to arrive at 11:25 o'clock. The travelers were unavoidably delayed in reaching this city yesterday morning, but the reception as planned for that time will be carried out today—speeches, band, 1,000-foot rope-pulled automobile, moving pictures and all.

It's going to be a big, rousing, whole-hearted reception, with everybody in on it.

COLONEL WILL BE IN HARNESS NEXT FALL

Praises Little Band of Progressives in Congress for Their Record

WASHINGTON, May 26.—[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] You have been tried as no other body has in either house of congress [illegible] for sixty years past [illegible] since the first men [illegible] the principles of Abraham Lincoln [illegible] came to congress. You have been exposed to every form of attack, both open and [illegible] of your equals [illegible] original [illegible] with you, has changed to a feeling of admiration, respect and a small degree of envy.

"I shall be taking any part in the campaign this year.

Will Help Johnson.

"I have written to Gov. Hiram Johnson that if my presence is desired in California, of course, I will go out there to fight for the ticket. Of course, I will do all else I can, but it is impossible to particularize now. It is impossible to make more than a certain number of speeches and I want to distribute them over as large an extent of territory as possible, to meet as many different interests as I can. All of us on the outside have appreciated to the full the gallant fight you have made here in congress. Good luck go with you all."

Colonel Roosevelt made his address while the newspaper men were present. Afterward the doors were closed and he sat down for an informal discussion of political questions.

Militants Plan to Shoot King's Entry Epsom Downs Derby

LONDON, May 27.—(Wednesday.)—The Daily Express says today that the police have been notified of a plot to shoot Brakespear, King George's entry in the derby which is to be run at Epsom Downs today. The Daily Express adds that at a meeting of militant suffragettes last night success to the plot was drunk in champagne.

LONDON, May 26.—The refusal of King George to see a suffragette deputation and alleged needless brutality on the part of the police in resisting their attempt to reach the palace appear to have exasperated the militants.

Window smashing in London now is of nightly occurrence. A party of militants invaded Kensington Gardens square tonight, smashing windows of the houses bordering on one side of the square. The occupants of the houses on the other side formed a guard, the members of which were armed with pails of boiling water, to watch for miscreants.

T. R. HAS BUSY DAY WHILE IN THE CAPITAL

Meets Old Friends, Holds Party Conferences and Delivers Lecture

CALLS ON PRESIDENT WILSON

Center of Interest Wherever He Goes; Has "Bully Time, by George"

WASHINGTON, [illegible] for the national capital where he spent seven hours [illegible] into nine hours the [illegible] crowded a speech on his South American expedition, a call on President Wilson, a political conference of first importance with the Progressives in congress, a [illegible] the trophies from his South American [illegible] a meeting with a few members of the diplomatic corps [illegible], there was a [illegible] impromptu receptions from crowds in the railway station, at his hotel, in the streets and wherever he chanced to stop for a moment.

Melts His Collar Down.

It was such a hot and busy day that the colonel's collar rapidly melted away, but he went through it all without showing evidence of fatigue. The crowds, the cheers, the struggles to shake his hand, the photographers and all the rest were like old campaign days. The colonel smiled and waved his hat continually and fired out "bully" and "by George, that's fine" at everything.

The Progressive members of congress were at the party headquarters to meet him after the lecture tonight and go over the political situation with him. It was understood that Colonel Roosevelt was desirous of sounding sentiment here, particularly with reference to the advisability of making an early attack on the policies of the Wilson administration. The congressmen wished to go over the [illegible] and learn his ideas regarding questions now before congress and, if possible, make out a tentative plan for the coming campaign.

Science Vs. Politics.

Colonel Roosevelt protested, however, that politics was not the main object of his visit to Washington.

"It was science, not for politics," he said.

With the exception of his conference with the Progressive congressmen, politics played little part in his day here. Reports that he might meet Republican leaders came to naught.

"Not a Republican showed his head," he said laughingly.

Colonel Roosevelt's visit with President Wilson was perhaps of greater interest to the public than any other event of the day. The president and his predecessor spent more than half an hour together and talked of most everything except politics. A good deal of the time was put in in telling stories. Colonel Roosevelt went to the White house dressed in a gray suit and a white felt hat. He had intended to go to his hotel to don more formal attire, but there was so much else to do that he had to give up that plan.

Colonel Meets Old Friends.

When the colonel arrived at the executive mansion the president was waiting to receive him in the Red room. The former president greeted warmly "Jimmie" Sloan, a secret serv-

'We Put That River on Map', Says Col. Roosevelt; Defies World to Disprove Statement

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Proclaimed tonight before a great audience of scientists from many cities as the "discoverer" of a river in South America 1,500 miles long, Col. Theodore Roosevelt assured the National Geographic society that he had "put this river on the map," and challenged all the cartographers in the world to disprove his achievement.

The colonel had appeared before a Washington audience on a previous occasion as an explorer, but never as a discoverer, and he was cheered to the echo as he declared that the cartographers and geographers of all nations were wrong in their maps of the wilds of Brazil wherein he found and traced the "Duvida river" or as now more familiarly known, the "River of Doubt."

Challenges Scientists.

Scientists, the colonel asserted, had attempted to dispute his discovery. Tracing on a blackboard with a piece of chalk the river of his finding, he declared emphatically: "I say 'We put it on the map' and I mean what I say. No map has ever yet shown this river. Scientists have said we might have traversed the river Tapajos or the river Madeira, but the fact is that some of our party went down one river and some went down the other, while we went down a river between them which no map maker ever saw. I can direct any man where to find this river; and rivers stay put, so that the discovery we have made may be verified."

The colonel described the hardship endured in navigating the rapids of the "River of Doubt." In the upper part of the river, he said, the rapids were so severe that it required 42 days for the party to traverse one degree from 11:45 south to 10:45 south. During that hazardous trip they lost nearly all their food and belongings.

Forced to Eat Monkeys.

"We were forced to eat monkeys to eke out our rations," the colonel declared. "Don't shudder for I assure you that after this experience you might leave me in the monkey house without any [illegible] of loathing."

At the close of his statement Colonel Roosevelt offered to answer any questions which anyone in the audience might ask. After a pause during principles on agrarian and other reforms, and on the conduct of a fair election.

Agree on Land Question.

After much discussion a satisfactory method of considering the land question practically has been reached. While the Mexicans have not yielded the original convictions that the land problem is purely internal, and that definite and binding recommendations concerning it should not be included in any agreement made here, the American view that some expression is desirable to point the way for its eventful settlement by Mexico herself has been sustained.

The parleys of the last two days indicate that a declaration of the principles on land reform as a basis for future study of the question will be included in whatever protocol the delegates sign here.

The Mexicans have no objection to this, for while they do not admit that the land problem has been the chief cause of their revolutions, as President Wilson insists, they say all political parties in Mexico have pledged themselves to land reform and a proclamation now cannot embarrass any future congress.

Financial Transactions.

It would create no surprise here if one of the results of mediation should be recognition by the government of the legality of some of the important financial transactions of the present Mexican congress which were made the subject of formal condemnatory notices to the powers of Europe.

Continued hostility by the Wilson administration against these acts, the Mexicans argue, would seriously entangle the financial relations of their country. They point to the fact that the leading European powers recognized the acts as legal. That the United States might waive this point to make smooth the road to peace is the confident expectation of the Mexican delegates. Some of the mediators and delegates predicted that unless a hitch occurred over details, the subject would be adjusted before the Constitutionalist army possibly can reach Mexico City notwithstanding General Villa's startling successes.

All Watching Negotiations.

EL PASO, Tex., May 26.—The outcome of the mediation proceedings at Niagara Falls was of absorbing interest today among agents here of the Huerta government and the Constitutionalists. Conferences between General Carranza, at Durango, and Rafael Zubaran Capmany, his representative at Washington, which have been held daily, continued over leased telegraph wires.

While there is no inkling as to the exact point at discussion, it was not denied that it referred entirely to the international position of the Mexican revolutionists. The belief was expressed, however, by those in close touch with the situation that neither General Carranza nor his followers would alter their stand against dealing in any way with the Huerta emissaries.

Liberal Support Rebels.

Fernando Iglesia Calderon, a leader of the Liberal party, who was here on his way to visit Carranza, expressed himself in a manner which went to show that the elements he represented agreed with the Constitutionalist commander-in-chief. Calderon said he had sent a message to Carranza from Havana in which he put himself at his orders, and that Carranza in turn requested a visit to discuss the general situation.

"If the mediation only has to do with adjusting an armed conflict between the United States and Mexico, it is good," said the Liberal leader. "But," he added, "if it interferes with the affairs of Mexico which are only our affairs it is bad. We have confidence that the South American representatives will not attempt to intervene in any way in the domestic affairs of Mexico."

No News From Front.

Little information came today from correspondents at the front or through official channels regarding the campaign to the south. Villa was said to have remained at Torreon, while it was announced that Carranza probably would stay at Durango for another week in order to keep in close touch with the internal and international situation. Telegraph service was opened today between Saltillo, recently captured, and Juarez, on the border here. The rigid censorship on newspaper telegrams evidently prevented the receipt of comprehensive dispatches from the front.

The official information bureau at Juarez announced today that Constitutionalist troops had dispersed a group of bandits operating along the Mexico Northwestern railroad in the Casas Grandes district, killing two of them. Complaint had been made by this British-owned railroad company of depredations along its line.

HAWKINS SAYS STRIKE BODY CAN'T MEDIATE

DENVER, May 26.—An opinion by Horace N. Hawkins, general counsel for the United Mine Workers of America, that the legislature's act creating the committee now attempting to settle the coal strike does not authorize mediation is expected to play an important part in further conferences.

The committee held its second conference with John R. Lawson and other strike leaders at the statehouse yesterday afternoon, nothing definite having been reached at the conference with both sides Saturday, which lasted several hours.

GOVERNMENT AND ROAD DIVIDE MINING CLAIMS

Hundreds of Millions of Dollars Represented in Decision Affecting California Lands

LOS ANGELES, May 26.—A decision by which the Iron Chief Mining company, a subsidiary of the Southern Pacific Railway company, and the government divided the title to mineral land in Riverside county, California, valued at several hundred million dollars, was handed down today by Frank Buren and O. R. W. Robinson, register and receiver, respectively, of the United States land office in Los Angeles.

The decision involved 4,000 acres of land about 40 miles from Mecca, Cal., on which application for patent was filed three years ago. Nath 32 separate mineral entries, comprising 151 mining claims and eight mill sites. The field service of the general land office filed a protest against the company's application for patent, alleging there was no mineral on some of the claims, and that insufficient improvements had been made upon others. Of the 151 claims investigated, 80 were allowed, with four mill sites, while 21 claims and one mill site were held for cancellation. The company withdrew 45 claims and three mill sites in the course of the trial.

These claims, together with a large tract of contiguous patented land which contains valuable iron deposits, and which were purchased by the Iron Chief Mining company for more than $1,000,000, formed the basis of a plan of the late E. H. Harriman to construct a great plant and manufacture steel on the Pacific coast.

It is expected that application for the claims rejected and withdrawn will be renewed by the company when it has made the necessary discoveries and improvements, as the report of a government geologist declared that in the district there were more than 75,000,000 tons of high-class iron ore.

REBEL AGENT EXPOSES PLOT TO PROVOKE INTERVENTION

EL PASO, Tex., May 26.—Rafael E. Musquiz, insurgent agent here, exposed today what he said was a plot to provoke American intervention.

He said that telegrams had told him of the movement toward the Texas border of groups of "reds" or former rebels, who now are serving as federal volunteers. Their intention, he asserted, was to fire across the border at American troops.

According to Musquiz, one group was headed for Ojinaga, opposite Presidio, Tex., while another was reported as having passed Cuatro Cienegas, south of Eagle Pass. The exact number of the troops said to be engaged in this plan was not given, but it was estimated that they numbered nearly 1,000.

It was said that they had been dispersed in various recent battles in the interior where they fought with the federal regulars of Huerta's army.

VOTERS CAN DEMAND HIGH-GRADE TEACHER

RAPID CITY, S. D., May 26.—That the country school board must employ a teacher capable of teaching high school work if the voters in that community desire it, but that the board is not compelled to order high work taught, is the gist of a modified decision just rendered in the state supreme court in the case of J. De Groff against the Piedmont school district board in Meade county.

The case originated a year ago when the Piedmont parents at the annual election adopted a resolution requiring the employment of a teacher qualified to teach the higher work.

ice man, and other White house attaches who served during his administrations.

"I'm very glad to see you," said the president, as he shook hands with Mr. Roosevelt. Miss Belle Hagner, social secretary at the White house, who occupied a similar position during the Roosevelt administrations, and Secretary Tumulty, were also present. After exchange of greetings the president led the way to the south portico of the White house where the cool breezes from the Potomac made more bearable the extreme heat. There lemonade was served by Miss Hagner and the two men sat down for a talk.

Speaking of travel, books and telling stories, the two men seemed to enjoy their meeting greatly. All controversial subjects were avoided, but the colonel himself mentioned the "river of doubt" which he discovered in Brazil and joked over the controversy about it.

"Pleasant Social Visit."

A crowd of several hundred persons had gathered inside the White house grounds and as Colonel Roosevelt appeared there was a burst of handclapping.

"It was a very pleasant social visit," said Colonel Roosevelt. On his arrival in Washington, Colonel Roosevelt went first to the Smithsonian Institution. It was his first glimpse of the game he shot in Africa since it had been mounted.

As he entered the building he caught sight of a huge rhinoceros in a glass case.

"I shot him," he exclaimed. "It was a rather close call, too. Kermit said 'wait a minute, dad, till I take his picture.' The rhino was rushing at us, head down.

"I've got to shoot,' I protested. But Kermit got his picture and then I got the rhino."

Reception Committee Gets Lost.

For an hour the colonel wandered through the museum. There was supposed to be a reception committee, but it was lost in the crowd, and the colonel found the way himself, pausing to explain specimens to those who happened to be nearest him, and rattled out scientific words which no one understood.

From the museum Colonel Roosevelt went to the home of Senator Lodge for a talk with the senator and the British, French and Spanish ambassadors. Then he attended a dinner given by President Gilbert H. Grosvenor of the National Geographic society. The lecture came next, with the conference with Progressive congressmen the last thing on the program before his departure for New York at midnight.

Throat Cut by Bandit Because He Had Only a Dollar; Holdup Escapes

PUEBLO, May 26.—Because he had only a dollar in his pockets, Walter Williams is in a local hospital here with several gashes in his throat and the police are seeking for a negro bandit, his assailant. Williams was held up early this morning on his way home.

"Is that all you've got?" queried the holdup, angrily, as search of his victim failed to reveal more than a dollar in change.

"Didn't know I had that much," replied Williams.

"Well, then, you're better off dead," said the negro, pulling a razor and slashing Williams three times across the throat. Passers by found the injured man and took him to police headquarters. The negro escaped.

GREAT ENGLISH ENGINEER INSPECTS U. S. PROJECTS

EL PASO, Tex., May 26.—Sir William Willcocks, an eminent English engineer, was entertained here tonight just before undertaking an inspection of irrigation projects in the west. He came to the United States upon an invitation from Franklin Lane, secretary of the interior, and will act, it is understood, in an advisory capacity for the United States reclamation service.

The visitor first will inspect the Elephant Butte dam at Engle, N. M., later proceeding to the San Luis valley, Colorado, Salt river project, Arizona, the Yuma project, Arizona, and California; the Orland project, California, and the Sacramento valley project, California.

With accompanying officials of the reclamation service the visitor was entertained at a banquet here tonight with a few El Paso officials and United States army officers.

Sir William was the builder of the Assuan dam across the river Nile and the river controls of the Tigris and Euphrates. He also has been noted as an explorer.

UNITARIANS WOULD CHANGE THEIR NAME

BOSTON, May 26.—A proposition that steps be taken toward changing the name "Unitarian" as applied to the denomination, was adopted at the annual meeting of the American Unitarian association today. The suggestion was embodied in the report of the secretary, Rev. Lewis G. Wilson, of this city.

JAPANESE NOT FEARFUL OF MEXICAN CONDITION

MEXICO CITY, May 26.—The Japanese minister denied today the report published in Mexico City papers this morning to the effect that Japan was sending two more cruisers to Mexico, with the object of taking off the Japanese from the west coast.

The minister said that the Idzumo, now in Mexican waters, would not be reinforced, but that she would be met at Manzanillo by the merchant steamer Seiyoo Maru, which will provision and coal her. The minister further stated that the Japanese had no desire to leave Mexico because they were friends of the Mexican people and were not fearful of hostile acts.

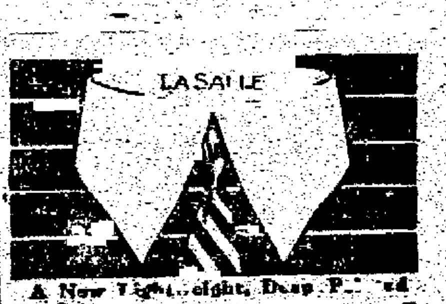

The departure of Americans for Vera Cruz has virtually ceased. There is only a slight demand for passports at the Brazilian legation. The total registration at the legation of Americans numbers over 1,000, and all declare their intention of remaining in Mexico.

AMERICAN IMMIGRATION TO CANADA FALLING OFF

"During April, 1913, the total number was 73,285, composed of 25,566 British, 19,260 American and 28,459 from all other countries. The decrease is 52 per cent."

BEER CHECKS GOOD FOR COFFEE

From the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

An important step in combating the excessive use of alcohol by soldiers has been taken by commanders of four German army corps, the Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Twenty-first, who have issued orders doing away with what was in effect a compulsion to drink beer or nothing on holidays, or other special occasions.

At such times the soldiers are permitted to draw a portion of their earnings. Instead, however, of receiving money, they get beer checks good at the military canteens. The new orders provide that these checks shall hereafter be accepted also for coffee and other nonalcoholic drinks.

Ireland's first strike took place in Dublin about 100 years ago, when the great piers of Kingstown harbor were being constructed.

'We Put That River on Map,' Says Col. Roosevelt; Defies World to Disprove Statement

which no questions were propounded he said:

"No questions are asked me to my face."

Colonel Roosevelt made his talk from a big temporary stage, fitted with maps of South America, a big stereopticon screen and a blackboard upon which was drawn a scale chart of a portion of the Amazon river, with its tributaries, Madeira and Tapajoz. The charts showed the new water course in dotted lines.

Given Ovation by Audience.

When the colonel reached the platform, a chorus of cheers greeted him. He was introduced by President Grosvenor of the National Geographic society and applause broke out again as he reached from the stage to shake hands with Major General Leonard A. Wood and Chief Justice White of the supreme court.

The colonel was attired in evening dress, and seemed to feel the extreme heat. He apologized for the "direness" of his address.

He characterized his South American expedition as a "zoo-geographic reconnaissance" and said the work of early Spanish explorers who discovered the Amazon river "made the exploration of our day seem like child's play." He added that these explorers also discov-[illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] tributaries [illegible] the Amazon [illegible]

Explains Objects of Trip.

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Dr. Lauro Muller, the foreign minister [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] him to [illegible] [illegible] the new "River of [illegible]."

Dr. Muller [illegible] [illegible] Mr. Roosevelt [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the work [illegible] the Brazilian telegraphic commission [illegible] [illegible] Brazil and the maps in existence [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Maps Are "All Wrong."

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the colonel continued [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] were drawn [illegible] [illegible] of the [illegible] Geographic society and they are all wrong, too. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the whole [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] two new rivers, but [illegible] [illegible] not where they were. One of these was the 'River of Doubt' and Dr. Muller asked me why I didn't investigate it. I told him 'By George, that's what I would like to do.'"

Asserting that he made up his mind to undertake this task, the colonel continued:

"Everything we did was based on what the telegraphic commission of Brazil under Colonel Rondon had done during the last seven years. All we did was to cap the pyramid of which they had broad and firm the foundations."

Praises Colonel Rondon.

Colonel Roosevelt urged that the Geographic society recognize the work of Colonel Rondon and the telegraphic commission, adding: "They have not had too much recognition at home in Brazil."

Colonel Roosevelt criticised the modern maps which he said were all wrong.

"It is almost impossible for me to show you what I did on these maps," he said, "because they are so preposterously wrong." He presented a letter which he wrote to Dr. Muller after he left the jungle, describing the trip.

Letter to Dr. Muller.

The letter follows:

"My Dear Gen. Lauro Muller:

"I wish first to express my profound acknowledgment to you personally and to the other members of the Brazilian government whose generous courtesy alone rendered possible the Expedicao Scientifica Roosevelt-Rondon. I wish also to express my high admiration and regard for Colonel Rondon and his associates, who have been my colleagues in this work of exploration. In the third place, I wish to point out that what we have just done was [illegible] possible only [illegible] [illegible] and perilous labor of the Brazilian telegraphic commission in [illegible] [illegible] western [illegible] of Matto Grosso during the last seven years. We have merely put the cap on the pyramid of which they had previously laid deep and broad the foundations.

Had Hard Time.

"We have had a hard and somewhat dangerous but [illegible] [illegible] trip. No less than six weeks were spent in slowly and with toilsome and exhausting labor forcing our way down through what seemed a literally endless succession of rapids and cataracts. For 48 days we saw no human being. In passing these rapids we lost five of the seven canoes with which we started and had to build others. One of our best men lost his life in the rapids. Under the strain one of the men went completely mad, shirked all his work, stole his comrades' food, and when punished by the sergeant he with cold-blooded deliberation murdered the sergeant and fled into the wilderness. Colonel Rondon's dog running ahead of him while hunting was shot by Indians; by his death he in all probability saved the life of his master.

"We have put on the map a river about 1,500 kilometers in length, running from just south of the thirteenth degree to north of the fifth degree, and the biggest affluent of the Madeira. Until now its upper course has been utterly unknown to everyone and its lower course, although known for years to the rubber men, utterly unknown to all cartographers. Its source is between the twelfth and thirteenth parallels of latitude south, and between longitude 59 degrees and longitude 60 degrees west from Greenwich. We embarked on it about at latitude 12 degrees 1 minute south and longitude 60 degrees 18 minutes west. After that its entire course was between the sixtieth and sixty-first degree of longitude, approaching the latter most closely about in latitude 8 degrees 15 minutes.

Encounter Rapids.

"The first rapids were at Navarte, in 11 degrees 44 minutes, and afterward they were continuous and very difficult and dangerous until the rapids named after the murdered sergeant, Paishamgin, 11 degrees 12 minutes. At 11 degrees 22 minutes it received the Rio Kermit from the left. At 11 degrees 22 minutes the Marciano Avila entered it from the right. At 18 degrees 18 minutes the Taunay entered from the left. At 10 degrees 58 minutes the Cardoso entered from the right.

"At 10 degrees 24 minutes we encountered the first rubber men. The Rio Branco entered from the left at 9 degrees 38 minutes. We camped at 8 degrees 12 minutes, or approximately the boundary line between the Matto Grosso and Amazonas. The confluence with the Aripuna, which entered from the left, was in 7 degrees 34 minutes. The mouth where it entered the Madeira was in five degrees 30 minutes. The stream we have followed down is that which rises farthest away from the mouth and its general course is almost due north.

"My dear sir, I thank you from my heart for the chance to take part in this great work of exploration.

"With high regard and respect, believe me,

"Very sincerely yours,
"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Home Mission Fight Today.

What is expected to be the liveliest fight at this session of the assembly is scheduled for tomorrow over the report of the standing committee on home missions. There are more than 600 overtures calling for the reorganization of the board of home missions. Rev. W. L. Weaver of Pueblo, Colo., will lead the attack on this board.

Rev. Mark A. Mathews explained to the assembly that he was asked to guarantee a fund of $45,000 for the entertainment of the assembly when he appeared before the committee to extend an invitation on behalf of Seattle.

"I refused to be held up for any sum because I did not think we should be penalized for extending an invitation to entertain this body," said Mathews. "I was surprised at the request of the committee and withdrew the invitation. We hope to have the honor of entertaining the assembly in 1916."

CELLIST'S WIFE BINDS AND SITS ON THIEF

NEW YORK, May 26.—Mrs. Florita L. Waldman Rogovoy, wife of George Rogovoy, the cellist, told, on her return here on the Vaterland, of an exciting experience she had in Russia. The driver of a coupe in Kiev, instead of taking her to her hotel, as she directed, drove to a suburb and attempted to rob her of a pearl necklace and other jewels. Mrs. Rogovoy said she knocked the man down, sat on him, tied him with a piece of harness, and then drove with him to a police station. He was sent to prison for three months.

Trolley Talks, No. 18

Stratton Park

We believe that if a stranger should ask any resident of Colorado Springs to name the city's most popular pleasure resort, the answer would almost invariably be "Stratton Park."

This beautiful resort at the foot of Cheyenne Mountain is known to everyone in and around Colorado Springs as "the public's great summer playground." And that is as it should be, for it was with that end in view that Mr. Stratton bought the big 60-acre tract at the mouth of the Canons.

The cost of acquiring that property, plus the original improvements—the parking, lakes, depot pavilion, etc.—amounted to approximately $70,000. But when it was opened in 1901 and the people thronged out there to enjoy its beauties, Mr. Stratton felt amply repaid for his investment.

Unfortunately, he did not live to see all the plans that he had in mind carried out, but the directors of this company have since seen to it that all of his ideas were fulfilled.

These included the building of the extra depot pavilion at Broadmoor, the establishment of the children's playground and the erection of the big dancing pavilion.

The dancing pavilion cost $25,000 to build and is the biggest and finest that has ever been erected in any pleasure park maintained by a street car company.

Moreover, as near as we can learn, it is the only dancing pavilion maintained by a street car company where the dancing is absolutely free. In most street car company parks either an admission charge is made to the dancing floor, or else the dances are charged for at the rate of a nickel apiece.

In our dance pavilion this season we are planning to give sixty dances and sixty-three free concerts. From June 7th until about the middle of September, the dances will be given on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights. The concerts will take place on Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday nights, and also on Sunday afternoons.

To maintain the park each year costs approximately $12,000—more than half of which goes for the payment of musicians.

In addition to the dances and concerts, the park is supplied with refreshment booths where food and non-alcoholic beverages are served at moderate prices.

Private picnic grounds are also set aside for parties without charge.

In concluding this little talk on Stratton Park we are glad to be able to state that the general public has always evinced its appreciation of the pleasures which Mr. Stratton's investment opens to them by conducting themselves in a decorous manner while enjoying the park's attractions.

THOMAS IS STILL RUNNING

UNITED STATES Senator Charles S. Thomas has announced that he is a candidate for reelection to the office. It is a mere formality, as everybody knew that he would be, because there is no suppressing of the senator. He was a candidate for 20 years before he got a chance to serve a short term, and probably he still will be a candidate 20 years hence.

The senator has issued a statement to accompany his announcement, filled with the usual platitudes regarding maintenance of law and order, but they fall exceedingly flat when viewed in the light of his inactivity during the late troublesome times. Senator Thomas, as well as the rest of the Colorado delegation, with possibly the exception of Keating, hid out during the winter insofar as home affairs were concerned.

Governor Ammons was in a delicate position, and it was generally considered that he needed the best advice that could be given him. Senator Thomas is one of the greatest lawyers in the country; he has had large executive experience and has been the adviser of many public men. Did he come forward and take his chances at extinction with the head of the state party? Not that anybody recalls.

Now that the strike troubles have been put up to the President and may be kept there until after the election, the senator bravely comes forth and starts his campaign on a general law and order platform. Senator Thomas has been very busy around Washington, handling the distribution of offices for Utah, Wyoming and all other Rocky Mountain states that have no democratic representatives in Congress—too busy to pay much attention to Colorado. The voters have him in mind for next November and they will not forget these things.

SITES FOR CAMPERS NEEDED

A COMMITTEE of the Chamber of Commerce is quietly looking for automobile camping sites for use during the coming summer. Of course, they already have one that is ideal, at Prospect Lake. It is beside the finest body of water near the city, is high and dry, and easily can be drained and kept sanitary, lighted and policed.

Other sites are needed, however, because the instinct of the newcomer to the mountains always is to draw close to them. Last year thousands of people found their ideal camping spots along Ute Pass in the canons and elsewhere. In fact, they scattered so far and wide that it was difficult to control health conditions. Some state legislation along this line may be necessary before long.

Quite naturally the hotel and resort people, who cater to the entertainment of summer visitors seeking the joys of vacation time, prefer the kind who come directly to them, but there is general recognition of the fact that the campers also are a factor. They spend a reasonable share of money, they swell the crowds, and they are excellent advertisers of the attractions of the Pikes Peak region.

Let not the reader for a minute fool himself in the belief that these automobile campers are all a cheap lot. Some of them are spending a great deal more money in making this sort of visit than they would in traveling by rail. Many people are learning the contentment and joy that is found in simplicity and naturalness. They love to establish closer relation to nature, because in that way the mind is released from strain and care.

Living amid mountains and forests with their laughing brooks, gazing on the broad surface of lakes, the swift passage over land by automobile bring release of mental tension. Many people cannot successfully take themselves away suddenly from the luxuries of civilization—rather one should say the personal comforts of modern life. They are willing to give a part of each day to the great outdoors and unrestraint, but at night they turn to house comforts. In a mountain country like the Pikes Peak Region, this class of travelers finds itself ideally placed. Here are palatial hotels, comfortable homes of the middle cost and service where one may be suitably housed, and yet in an hour with an automobile one can speed to the heart of the mountain fastnesses. Campers, half-campers and regulation tourists, are equally welcomed to whatever the Pikes Peak Region can offer them in the way of comfort and protection.

With the advent of American soldiers and sailors at Vera Cruz prosperity hit the place. When the natives realized this, and that they were being protected and that their property was safer from confiscation than ever before, they showed that they would gladly be conquered every day in the week, writes Jack London, who is there for Collier's Weekly. This recalls a story that used to be told of El Paso county when it was a vast sheep range. There were many sheep herders of Mexican blood here who were American citizens and voters. It is related that a Democratic speaker at a school house out on the plains told his hearers that Senator Chaffee, leader of the Colorado Republicans, had said at Denver that he could come to El Paso county and buy every Mexican vote with a sack of flour. Instead of arousing indignation, the speaker was amazed when his hearers arose and offered three cheers for Chaffee.

Vice Consul Silliman's appearance at Mexico City clears up an ugly situation that seemed about to disturb the mediation proceedings. It also gives emphasis to the fact that we should not pay attention to all the rumors of cruelty that come out of Mexico. In nearly every instance people reported lost have been accounted for, and nearly all the "atrocities" reported have been found not to be true. When we get such reports and make an unnecessary fuss over them or permit ourselves to be worked into a fever, what must be the mental attitude of the ignorant Mexican rabble when fed with lurid tales regarding us? That they restrain themselves as well as they do toward the Americans speaks a good deal for them.

An appropriation bill before Congress contains many things for the members to consider, but one wonders what the process is when a committee recommends that $165,000 be spent for free seeds for the members to send to constituents, who usually don't want them; $400,000 for stamping out hog cholera, and $25,640 for the Children's Federal Bureau. The business of legislators principally is to get reelected, but none of the Appropriations Committee ever reflects that the hogs never will be able to vote, while some of the babies that come into the world do attain that stage of life.

At least there are three cloudless days of near summer that the weather man cannot take away from us.

PARALYTICS AND CRIPPLES

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Our hospitals and some humble private homes have patients who are permanently unable to walk from paralysis, rheumatism and similar ailments. Day after day, and year after year, they have little or no chance for a pleasant and healthful ride through our beautiful parks, mountain canons and other resorts they frequented in other days.

Now, how would you feel, ye owners of automobiles and other vehicles, to be in their places—involuntarily sentenced to a couch or wheel-chair for life, and seldom, if ever, get an invitation to "take a ride?" Think of it!

I have often wondered at the evident forgetfulness and neglect of these helpless cripples by seemingly kind-hearted people who have the means, and so many opportunities to occasionally give an hour's pleasure and recreation "on wheels."

A GOLDEN RULER.

FROM OTHER PENS

PENNSYLVANIA SHOULD UNITE ON PINCHOT TO DEFEAT PENROSEISM

From the New York Tribune, the oldest Republican newspaper in New York.

Mr. Penrose should be beaten.

It will be a bad thing for public life in America if the forces which he represents triumph in the Pennsylvania senatorship contest. It will be a ruinous thing for the Republican party if Mr. Penrose and his Rump come to the front in it once more.

His defeat will save the state of Pennsylvania from the discredit of unworthy representation in the United States senate. It will stem the tide of reaction of which his victory in the primaries is an ominous sign. And the Republican party will be stronger when it enters the next national campaign with Penrose in the background rather than in the foreground.

The party must keep faith with the public if it is to have any hope of regaining its vigor. It must reject reactionary leadership everywhere and at all times.

This recrudescence of Penrose is a challenge to the progressive element in the Republican party everywhere. There must be no compromise with the forces of reaction. The party's house must be thoroughly cleaned and the party completely reorganized. If a real fight is not made, if drastic steps are not taken, the old machine will be found as in Pennsylvania, to have profited by the undeniable swing away from President Wilson and to be as firmly intrenched in power as it was when it brought the party to disruption in 1912.

It is because the issue is so big, so vitally important to the country and to the party, that the Tribune has no sympathy with the cowardly counsels that have prevailed in Pennsylvania and that have enabled Penrose to win his victory at the primaries. It has been argued there that Penrose represented the best chance of success at the election; that he had the machine and the support of the "interests." Newspapers in Philadelphia which were supposed to stand for independence of the machine have kept silent, either at the bidding of the forces behind Mr. Penrose or for fear of impairing the Republican party's chances.

The selfish interests may profit by Penrose's success, but it will be costly victory for the Republican party which brings him forward as an embodiment of the its aims and an index of its character.

The Tribune hopes that Pennsylvania will elect Mr. Gifford Pinchot, the candidate of the Progressive party, as its next senator. He is a worthier candidate than the man chosen at the Democratic primaries. The necessity for defeating Pennrosism transcends all partisan considerations. Opposition to it should not be divided. The Democratic candidate ought to withdraw. All citizens, irrespective of party affiliations, should unite in support of Mr. Pinchot.

BUTTER

BY GEORGE FITCH
Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

Butter is a lubricant which enables bread to go down easily.

Butter is produced by the cow, with the assistance of man. The cow turns it over to man in the shape of cream, and man turns the cream into butter by churning it violently or by shipping it over a poor railroad.

Once upon a time the cow was of great importance in butter making, but now she is only a minor factor. Years ago when the cow produced her cream it was immediately made into butter by the industrious farmer's wife, and was taken to town, where it was sold the next day for 20 cents a pound. Science and business have so perfected the art of butter making, however, that the cow is now entirely out of range of the consumer. By the time cream has reached the creamer, under contract, and has been made into butter, with the wholesaler, and has been priced by the Elgin board of trade and has been sold to the grocers' combination, it costs genius has produced as much value in butter by handling it as the cow has by producing it. We should all take off our hats to man and should pity the cow for her rustic simplicity.

"Years ago when the cow produced her cream, it was immediately made into butter by the industrious farmer's wife."

Butter in its natural state is smooth, firm, greasy and cream colored. However, man likes his butter yellow, so it is colored by the butter maker. The kindly United States congress has made yellow a natural monopoly for butter, and the maker of oleomargarine who tries to produce a cheap substitute for butter for those who can't afford to pay jewelry prices for it has to make it white or red or pink or green. If he makes it yellow he has to pay a tax of 10 cents a pound. This is indeed a free country, as the poor man often observes as he forks over his dime for the privilege of eating the rich man's shade of bread roofing.

The price of butter is a great grief to all, and the worst of it is the poor cow does not get much of it. Cows are getting scarcer owing to the high price of beef, while the man who received the butter in his left hand simply passes it over to the consumer with his right hand and buys a new and more costly automobile every year.

On Fragrances

BY RUTH CAMERON

The fragrances which are hunted down, caught and imprisoned in a sachet powder or toilet water to be sold to the public are not the only odors which one loves to sniff.

There are some fragrances that have never been caught and imprisoned for man's pleasure which are just as dear to our nostrils and heart as the most expensive sachets.

For instance, I know of no sachet which could give me half as much pleasure as the first whiff of the salt sweetness of the sea air which salutes my nostrils when I come back to the ocean.

Personal preferences in the matter of fragrances are usually very strong. It seems to me there is an exceptionally large element of the subjective in our sense of smell. As has often been said, an odor seems to bring back the past more poignantly than sight or sound. Therefore, our like or dislike of an odor is not merely for its intrinsic quality, but for its association, and the two are often tangled up so closely that we cannot untangle them if we try.

It seems to me, for instance, that I love the smell of salt air for itself, and would love it if I had never seen the ocean. But if that feeling could be analyzed, just as we analyze chemical compounds, I fancy I should find that it was about 25 per cent physical enjoyment of the salt smell and 75 per cent an enjoyment of awakened memories of the sight and sound of the great blue, thunderous ocean, and of a thousand pleasant hours which I have had beside it, within it or upon it.

Again, to many people, the smell of the stable is a distinctly offensive odor, but a friend of mine who is passionately fond of horses and cows and anything connected with the country, tells me that she loves it. "When the milkman comes my maid insists on opening the windows to get that 'barny' smell out," she says. "I have never quite dared tell her, but I think it is very sweet, far sweeter, than the perfume she puts on her handkerchief."

Speaking of barns, I wonder why the exquisite fragrance of new-mown hay has never been captured and distilled into a sachet. I should think its sweetness and novelty might make it popular with that class of people who have nothing to do but hunt for novelties.

The odor of fresh-cut wood is another which I particularly like. And another friend thinks there is nothing quite so sweet as the smell of fresh-baked bread.

The sense of smell does not seem like a very important one to us, and, indeed, it has been greatly blunted since the early days of the race, when it was actually used in a practical way. Nevertheless, it is still capable both of giving present pleasure and of poignantly recalling past pleasures.

The Mexican Situation

SHALL WE ASSIST THIS CARRANZA POLICY

From the New York American.

Pancho Villa lacks gratitude. He may know how to fight; indeed, he evidently does; but he does not know what is due to a true and admiring friend like Mr. Bryan. Not every man has been so fortunate as to have Bryan for a eulogist. As a rule, his eulogies are for himself. But he picked Villa as an interesting specimen of a brand plucked from the burning, a red-handed warrior who, under the gentler teachings emanating from Washington, was abandoning barbaric warfare and adopting the practices of sweetness and light. He deplored the cold lack of sentiment of correspondents who insisted on telling of Villa's satisfaction of his lust for blood.

For a time Villa was responsive. He, or his junta in Washington for him, gave every promise that he would live up to Mr. Bryan's picture of him. But his first great triumph spoiled the portrait. The chance to do murder was too tempting to be resisted. At Zelucho this week he executed a captive general and 32 staff officers. At Saltillo a general sack, with all the accompaniments of massacre and outrage, is in progress. Not Mexico alone, but the whole civilized world, is awaiting with horrified anticipation the taking of the city of Mexico by this bloodthirsty horde.

And, in the midst of this carnage, Carranza announces his purpose of sending representatives to the conference at Niagara Falls—a conference held for the purpose of ousting Huerta because his power is founded upon bloodshed.

The department of state has been endeavoring assiduously to dispel the idea that Villa is a man of blood and carnage.

In a book just published, Hamilton Fyfe, who was in Mexico as the correspondent of the London Times, relates this illuminating conversation with Carranza:

"We Constitutionalists refuse to recognize any president who may be returned at the fraudulent election. We shall execute anybody who does recognize him."

"I beg your pardon," I said. "Would you kindly repeat your last statement?"

"I thought I must have misunderstood it.

"We shall," the general said, calmly and as if he were making a perfectly natural remark, "execute any one who recognizes a president unconstitutionally elected, and directly or indirectly guilty of participation in the murder of Madero."

What will be the results in death and agony of a complete victory for Carranza's forces and the delivery to them of the City of Mexico?

MEDIATION AND THE SITUATION

From the Philadelphia Leader.

It is not probable that mediation will resolve itself into a settlement of the agrarian situation in Mexico. Huerta, as an usurper, cannot, through his representatives, make any guarantees that will be of value. It is apparent, in fact, that Huerta is becoming a minor factor. The great problem confronting this government is the preservation of law and order following Huerta's retirement and the restraining of Carranza and Villa when they get possession of the capital. Their nationalism has been subordinated to opportunism heretofore because they could not hope to succeed without the moral support of the United States. They may turn their backs on us when they have got what they want. They are the real menace. It is clear, nevertheless, that they contemplate redistribution of lands, probably by confiscation, and if the amelioration of the peons' condition is the actual incentive of our diplomacy it may be brought about by this means.

Mediation will be futile unless the Mexican delegates are empowered to make such concessions that this government will be compelled to accept them. If Huerta eliminates himself, for instance, what reason will the Constitutionalists have for keeping in the field? Successful mediation with Huerta, in other words, will be a blow to Carranza and Villa. There can be no settlement of the Mexican situation in which they do not acquiesce. They are the Frankenstein of the problem. Of course if they capture the capital while the mediators are still in conference, mediation immediately fails, because the Mexican envoys will be without credentials. In fact, the conference at Niagara Falls would seem ridiculous were it not that diplomatic precedents have been abandoned, and there is no way to gauge the scope or purpose of our plans.

COMMENTS

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

With newspaper correspondents clustered around him, "General" Villa raised his glass and drank "to the greatest man alive, your President Wilson."

It remains for Secretary Bryan to fill his goblet with the juice of the grape—unfermented, of course—and, in behalf of the president thus honored by Villa, drink "to the greatest general of modern times."

After that our pet little murderer can resume his march on the City of Mexico feeling that all is well.

From the Pittsburg Dispatch.

Huerta is reported to have $19,000,000 on deposit in European banks. In which case the problem for Huerta is a workable plan for effecting a safe junction between himself and the bank account.

From the Kansas City Star.

The law against selling liquor to Indians should be overlooked in the case of General Huerta, who should be allowed to drink himself to death as rapidly as possible.

From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

There are 35 varieties of Indians in Mexico, and each tribe has its own special brand of revolution ready to precipitate.

From the Boston Evening Transcript.

The release of the snipers at Vera Cruz will tend to convince some more of us that we are really at war, as sniping in times of peace is usually called by a shorter and uglier name.

MAY 27, 1884.

Justice Fields heard the arguments in the three liquor cases that had been up before him and reserved his decision.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 27, 1894.

A state of armed truce existed in Cripple Creek. President Slocum and Rev. Mr. Carrington, who had visited the camp in the interest of a peaceful settlement, had not accomplished anything. President Calderwood of the miners union had informed Mr. Hagerman that the miners would not consider any agreement that did not provide for the employment of none but union men in the camp. The operators positively refused and matters were at a standstill.

The United States and Pacific Express companies had two new wagons on the streets.

PINK EYES

Pink eye is frequently the result of a scratch from dust or some other foreign body. At this season of the year, when the wind and dust are spreading infection of all kinds, there are many cases of sore eyes. In most cases only the mucous membrane lining the lids and covering the eyeballs is involved. The eyes are red and there is a discharge that sticks the lids together in the morning. They feel heavy and burn, but there is no actual pain. There is a sensation as though there were sand in the eye. In many cases only one eye is involved at first, but soon the infection goes over to the other eye.

When a speck, cinder, or particle of dust gets fixed on the eyeball it usually requires the assistance of a careful physician to remove it. When the foreign body is lodged under the surface of the upper lid it can usually be easily removed. This can be done by turning the lid outward to expose the under surface.

To turn the lid inside out have the sufferer close the eye affected. Then take a firm hold of the lashes of the upper lid and place the end of a lead pencil or toothpick on the lid up near the top of the eyeball. Lift the lid by the lashes, exerting in the meantime firm pressure downward from above with the toothpick or pencil. It is easy to locate the foreign substance when the lid is in this position.

To remove the particle, take the corner of a clean handkerchief or other clean fabric of cotton which has been previously twisted on a toothpick or match, and gently brush it away.

If the eyes are kept clean and free from discharge the inflammation will be over in from four to 10 days. The discharge from such an eye is infectious. People who have pink eye should not use towels or handkerchiefs that may later be used by another person. Failure to observe this precaution is the reason why this condition "makes the rounds." It frequently does this in schools, boarding houses, and business institutions.

There is a serious side to attacks of pink eye. Occasionally the cornea or clear part in front of the eyes becomes involved, and ulcers form. These ulcers of the cornea are very grave because the scars they leave interfere with vision.

Inflammation of the inside of the eye is sometimes associated with pink eye. The danger signals warning us of one or more serious conditions are pain, dimness of vision, and swelling. Any one of these three should make us go at once to a physician competent to treat diseases of the eye.

When pink eye is caused by a spark from a cigar or a piece of hot ash, a drop of olive oil will usually relieve the pain until medical advice can be had.

WHOOPING COUGH TREATMENT.

R. T. writes: "What is most beneficial for a child that has the whooping cough? How long will it last?"

REPLY.

1. Sunlight, air, good surroundings. Some newer drugs called "specifics for whooping cough," while not specifics, are helpful. Do not give these drugs except as directed by a physician. There are a hundred home cures for whooping cough. None is worth while. There is frequently a small ulcer under the tongue in whooping cough. One of these cures is to touch that ulcer with some caustic.

2. The whoop commonly lasts several weeks, and the cough longer still. The case ceases to be contagious before the whoop stops.

CATS AND INFECTION.

J. G. M. writes: "Will you tell me what diseases a cat can carry?"

REPLY.

The evidence that cats carry disease is not conclusive. They have tuberculosis, and they may infect people. They have been accused of carrying diphtheria, infantile paralysis and meningitis, but the tendency of opinion is toward human carriers and away from beast carriers of these diseases. Ricketts' book on infection does not mention cats.

MENIERE'S DISEASE.

J. G. writes: "Will you kindly give the symptoms of Meniere's disease?"

REPLY.

Vertigo, deafness, noises in the ear and vomiting are the cardinal symptoms. The vertigo may be continuous, sometimes worse and sometimes better, or it may be intermittent. Severe giddiness is liable to be accompanied by vomiting.

Vertigo and head noises in a person with nervous deafness, Anders says, establishes the diagnosis.

ACHE FOLLOWS FALL.

J. Q. writes: "I am 52 years old. Last October I fell. Ever since whenever I get a little tired my spine aches. Sometimes I can scarcely get up from a seat without the aid of my hands. I am perfectly healthy and heavily built, besides being tall."

REPLY.

It is possible that in falling you broke or displaced the end of your spine and in consequence some nerve is being pressed on. Your physician could decide that for you easily.

It is much more probable that the pain is a fatigue pain, worry pain, or neurasthenia pain, so-called, of which women so frequently complain. If so disregard the pain, but get more exercise in the open air, train down some, and regulate your work and worry so as to save some fire.

SHOULD BE EXAMINED.

G. J. C. writes: "My mother, a woman of 61 years, is in a serious nervous condition. This condition originated from varicose veins in her lower limbs, which have brought on hardening of the arteries resulting in an anaemic condition and mental lapse which have begun to be pronounced."

REPLY.

Varicose veins do not cause hardening of the arteries. Neither varicose veins nor hardening of the arteries causes a profound anaemia. She probably has one of two conditions—hardening of the arteries or pernicious anaemia.

To determine the former, or to exclude it, have her blood pressure taken and her urine, her heart, and the back part of her eyes examined.

To decide as to anaemia have her blood examined.

PRESERVING A FAMOUS FLAG

From the Baltimore Sun.

Work on the restoration of the original Star Spangled Banner, which floated from the flagstaff at Fort McHenry when Key wrote the national anthem, was started recently at the Smithsonian institution. The work will be in charge of Mrs. Fowler of Boston, who is the most widely known expert in this line, she having had charge of the restoration of the 75 trophy flags of the War of 1812, now at the Naval academy, and for which work congress appropriated $30,000.

The matter of a souvenir program for the national Star Spangled Banner centennial celebration in September was finally decided upon at a meeting of the managing directors. It was agreed to issue an artistic publication entirely free from advertising.

Pasteboard boxes with a sanitary insect-proof opening have been invented for containing sugar and other food products similar in form.

Woman and 3 Men to Face Larceny Charge

Three men and one woman are under arrest charged with grand larceny, and the police believe their capture will solve the mystery of the disappearance in Colorado Springs of a trunk belonging to Nils Grandahl, a Swedish minister. The trunk, which contained more than $500 worth of antiques, clothing, etc., was stolen from a barn at 616 North Corona street last January. Those charged with the theft are Vera Daniels, in jail in Denver on a theft charge; her husband, Ralph Daniels, who is in the United States navy at Mare island; George Rechter, a prisoner in Denver, charged with forgery, and Milan Marshall, who is in the county jail here.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Birdsall left last night for Denver to secure requisition papers for Daniels. He will go to San Francisco today to bring Daniels here for trial.

When Grandahl arrived here January 11 he engaged Theodore Walmer, an expressman, to haul his trunk but gave him the wrong address. Unable to find the right address, Walmer left the trunk in his barn, where, the police say, the quartet now under arrest stole it. The police say that it was taken to the Daniels home on East Platte avenue and the contents divided. Several of the stolen articles have been recovered by the police.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO EXPLAIN FINANCE PLAN

The special committee from the trade and industries committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which has charge of the plan for raising a guarantee fund for the aid of new industries, is making rapid progress with the scheme, and the members hope soon to begin the work of getting the actual subscriptions to the fund.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and other business men will be held at the Antlers tomorrow noon to hear the plan as presented by the committee, Mayor McKesson, Chester S. Emmert and County Attorney C. M. Hawkins. It is expected that the plan will receive the approval of the directors at that time, and once such approval is secured the work will quickly be carried to completion.

PUEBLO AUTO ROAD TO BE OPENED TOMORROW

The automobile road to Pueblo will be opened tomorrow, according to the county commissioners. The temporary bridge across the Fountain at Buttes will be in place by that time.

A representative of the state highway commission was here yesterday to examine the plans for the new bridge with the county commissioners. The structure will cost $8,000 if 150 feet long and $10,000 if 200 feet long. It will be of reinforced concrete.

Baby of Future is Considered

Much thought has been given in late years to the subject of maternity. In the cities there are maternity hospitals equipped with modern methods. But most women prefer their own homes and in the towns and villages must prefer them. And since this is true we know from the great many splendid letters written on the subject that our "Mother's Friend" is a great help to expectant mothers. They write of the wonderful relief, how it assisted to allow the muscles to expand without undue strain and what a splendid influence it was on the nervous system—such helps as "Mother's Friend" and the broader knowledge of them should have a helpful influence upon babies of the future. In a little book for such women these facts are more thoroughly brought out. A copy will be mailed to anyone who will send us their name and address. "Mother's Friend" is sold in all drug stores and is highly recommended for its usefulness, its safeness and the help it affords. Ask for it at the store and write us for the book. Margaret Moreland Qualifies as Real Star
Goodwin's 'Leading' Lady Buys Prize Pup

No leading lady is really full fledged "Simon pure," starring, "bee in the bonnet" leading lady until she owns a pet dog. So Miss Margaret Moreland, leading lady for Nat Goodwin in "Never Say Die," which will be seen here Saturday night, has joined the ranks and thoroughly qualified as a leading lady in the first class. And not only has she purchased one of Dr. Dalton's Champion Spider's pups, "Clip" by name, but she has entered it and will show in the novice puppy class in the forthcoming Boston terrier exhibitions, not in New York alone, but other cities where shows are scheduled to be given.

MISS MARGARET MORELAND

Miss Moreland is an out and out dog fancier and has owned and bred several prize winners of the wolf hound and St. Bernard type, but never until recently has she possessed a pet of the Boston terrier order. To say she is enthusiastic over her prospects of winning one of the gonfalons, does not express it.

Spider A. K. C. No. 110,262, is, as those who are familiar know, the sire [illegible] recognized champion of champions in his class. No child with its first doll was ever happier than this same Margaret Moreland, now that she owns a real Boston terrier, and that the following colleague would not meet with her approval, was a foregone conclusion.

"Well, been buying a bull dog?" queried Goodwin, as the newcomer was brought to his notice.

"Yes, and a perfect wonder," replied his leading lady, and at once rattled off its long string of virtues.

"Some bull," laughed Goodwin as he walked away—and now Miss Moreland is waiting her chance for a comeback.

Tunnel Contract to Be Let in Few Days

As soon as preliminary work is completed in clearing out the present bore of the Roosevelt Deep Drainage tunnel in the Cripple Creek district and tracks and ventilation pipes are laid, bids will be advertised for the extension of the tunnel to the Elkton shaft. The committee in charge will probably let the contract for the extension from the Elkton to the Golden Cycle shafts after the Elkton work is finished. President James F. Burns of the tunnel company, accompanied by Secretary Hawkins, went to Cripple Creek yesterday. At a recent meeting of the executive committee it was decided to go ahead with the work as planned.

PEARL LAUNDRY GIVES BANQUET TO EMPLOYES

The heads of departments of the Pearl laundry, the delivery men and the managers were entertained by the company at a banquet at the Silver Grill cafe last night. Eighteen plates were laid and the gathering proved to be of value in the exchange of ideas and the offerings of suggestions for the betterment of the service. President Charles H. Austin was unable to attend the dinner, but sent his regards to the employes over the telephone. It is intended to give a banquet each month.

Those present last night were: W. J. Stacey, Arthur Standlee, G. B. Leftwenhagen, William B. Smith, Frank Jones, Arlie W. Cannon and R. F. Latta, all of the delivery department; Miss Katherine Giles, head of the women's clothes finishing department; Mrs. Lynch, flat work; Carl Johnson, washroom; Lavergne Hoppe, marking and assorting; William Atkins, engineer; Miss Stella Dillon, cashier; Miss Harvey, telephone; Miss Tessa Giles, assistant secretary; Samuel Cox, foreman, and John W. Giles, manager.

William Anderson, owner of the New Grand hotel in Salt Lake City, and also of hotels in California and Idaho, is a guest of the Alamo management of this city. He will leave for Denver late today.

Conciliation Board Holds First Meeting

The board of conciliation, composed of five directors of the Colorado Springs and Interurban Railway company, and the same number of employes, four union and one nonunion, held the first of its monthly meetings yesterday afternoon. Similar meetings will be held the fourth Tuesday of each month.

Yesterday's conference was largely in the nature of an informal gathering and was devoted entirely to discussions and suggestions concerning the operations of the company and expressions of opinion from both sides with regard to handling cars, how best to improve the service and an interpretation of certain provisions in the company's new rule book. A number of the suggestions offered by the employes were favorably received and will be carried out at once by the company.

IVYWILD MAY PURCHASE 10 ADDITIONAL HYDRANTS

At a meeting of the Ivywild Improvement society last night it was voted to accept the proposition offered by F. E. Brooks of the Brookside Water company in which the citizens of Ivywild are to purchase about 10 hydrants and turn them over to the company to be maintained without further expense to the citizens. The society will now present the proposition to the entire citizenship of Ivywild through a house-to-house canvass, and the hydrants will be bought in accordance with such a plan, provided the majority of the citizens are favorable to the proposition.

The society has now reached the 100 mark, and a campaign is still being waged for additional members. The meeting last night was an enthusiastic one and, aside from the talk by Mr. Brooks, Leonard E. Curtis, representing the state highway association, gave a brief outline of the work of the association and explained the uses to which the highway levy was being put. The next meeting of the society will be held June 9.

AMES RANCH PROPERTY PURCHASED FOR $25,000

J. G. Sargent Takes 617-Acre Tract to Engage in Stock Raising and Dairying

As a result of the joint work of the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce with the immigration department of the Rock Island road, a tract of 617 acres was sold this week. The transaction involves about $25,000 and will result in two families settling in El Paso county.

J. Gordon Sargent of New Orleans has purchased the Ames ranch south of the city, and the sale was the result of the railroad immigration agents bringing the purchaser in touch with the Chamber of Commerce committee on agriculture. Mr. Sargent is a contractor of wealth, and will bring not only his own family to this county, but will be accompanied by another family. His plans are to enter stock raising and dairying on a large scale.

The Ames place is well equipped with buildings, has good water rights and is well located for the purpose.

BAKER'S ESTATE WILL GO TO WIDOW, SAYS REPORT

Property Left by Springs Man Valued at $150,000, Including Residence in This City

The estate of the late Henry R. Baker, favorite nephew of John W. Gates, will go to Baker's widow, according to press dispatches from Aurora, Ill., where the estate was scheduled for distribution in the probate court yesterday. The estate was valued at $150,000, all but $5,000 of which being personal property, and, in the absence of a will, it is said that it will go to the widow. Baker died in Colorado Springs a month ago. The estate owns a residence on North Cascade avenue, which was given Baker as a wedding present by Charles G. Gates.

The will of John W. Gates provided $250,000 for Baker on condition of his finishing a college course. Ill health prevented his completing his education and two years ago he came to Colorado Springs in hopes of regaining his health. At this time, it was said, Mrs. Gates had presented him with the quarter of a million dollars, which his failing health had cost him under the terms of the Gates will.

Colorado College Orchestra Concert Charms Audience

By MRS. JOHN SPEED TUCKER

The annual concert of the Colorado College orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. George M. Howe, was given last evening in Perkins hall.

It is mainly through the ambition and determination of Mrs. Howe that the orchestra exists, and the college is most fortunate in having on its faculty a musician of ideas and resource, who is able to develop those ideas with students. There are 12 violins, two cellos, clarinet, flute, double bass, cornet, piano and organ, maintaining a splendid balance.

The audience felt at once the inspiring strains of the opening number, the Coronation March, by Meyerbeer, and listened with enthusiasm to a varied program.

Miss Mabel Harlan, who has done admirable work with Mrs. Howe, led the first violins and played a concerto by Viotti, which was accompanied by the orchestra. Miss Harlan is a remarkably talented girl, and great things are expected of her in the future. She is a favorite at the college and has endeared herself to hosts of admirers in the city. She graduates this year, and gives a final recital next week.

Miss Janet Warnock sang two songs in splendid style and responded to an encore with the old-time favorite, "Bonnie Sweet Bessie." Miss Warnock possesses a soprano voice of fine quality, and proves herself a reliable young singer.

Some very choice effects were obtained in ensemble work by the orchestra, and the accompaniments were played in good taste and with proper reserve.

The large audience gathered to hear Mrs. Howe and her players went home convinced that Colorado college harbors decided talent which is well worth hearing.

CITY HIGH SCHOOL IS HOST AT BANQUET

The annual banquet given by the junior class of the Colorado City high school to the faculty and senior class was held at the Alta Vista hotel last night, and proved to be an enjoyable affair for the 40 people present. An orchestra furnished music during the six-course dinner. Toasts were responded to as follows: "Therefore, since brevity is the soul of wit, I will be brief," Frank Brown; "Nineteen Fourteen," Miss Esther Stuntz; "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," Miss Elvessa Courtwright; "Year's at the Spring," Miss Twohig; "A Senior," Robert Allen; and "Retrospection," Miss Lucy McKnight.

JACOB A. RIIS DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

the success in the study of conditions on the East Side of New York.

Had Meager Start.

With only $— capital and notes for $675, he succeeded in buying the "South Brooklyn News," which was on the verge of bankruptcy, and made such a success with the property that he was able to sell it at a considerable profit a few years later. He returned to Denmark and married the girl who had refused him when he was a carpenter's apprentice. This first wife died in 1903 and two years later Riis married Mary Phillip of St. Louis.

As a reporter on the New York Tribune and later on the New York Sun, Riis took up his good work in slum fighting. While attending to routine duty as a police reporter, he worked day and night to encourage the people to the need of improved living conditions. One of the first of his campaigns was against the impurity of the city water, and it was his pen which finally led to the purchase of the Croton watershed to assure safe drinking water for New York.

Work in Tenement District.

He brought sunlight to the tenement districts by urging the destruction of rear tenements. He control cleared Mulberry Bend, one of the worst tenement sections in the city, and replaced the squalid homes by shady parks.

Theodore Roosevelt was police commissioner of New York when Riis attacked the evils of police station lodging houses. He won his point, and incidentally a strong ally in Mr. Roosevelt. Riis drove bake-shops out of tenement basements, he fought for laws abolishing child labor, and was largely instrumental in getting the passage of "the briefest, wisest, and best statute on the books of New York, laying down the principle that hereafter no school shall be built without an adequate playground."

After twenty-seven years as a reporter, Riis resigned to continue his fight by writing and lecturing. Among the products of his pen are "How the Other Half Lives," "The Children of the Poor," "The Making of an American," his autobiography, "The Battle With the Slum," "Children of the Tenements," "The Old Town," "Theodore Roosevelt, the Citizen," and "Hero Tales from the Far North."

Higher Civilization Is Making More Criminals

CHICAGO, May 26.—An awakened public conscience and higher ideals of the people in the last score of years have made actual criminals of many thousands, according to William N. Gemmill, president of the Illinois Society of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology at their annual meeting today.

"The passage of the pure food law made 50,000 criminals," he said. "These people did not change, but the public conscience changed. Enactment of a law forbidding women to be employed more than a certain number of hours a day made many thousands more lawbreakers. Passage of white slave and gambling acts made other thousands of criminals."

SALVADOR AND HONDURAS READY TO FIGHT FOR MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, May 26.—The American minister to Salvador has informed the foreign office here that the people of Salvador are raising a fund to assist Mexico in case of war with the United States. The minister reported that about 20,000 Salvadorenos and Hondurans had offered to join the Mexican army to fight against the United States.

NEW HAVEN HEARING IS TO BE RESUMED TODAY

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Directors, past and present, of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad will be placed on the witness stand tomorrow when the interstate commerce commission resumes its investigation of the New Haven's affairs. This was announced late today by commission officials, who said that William Skinner, Henry K. McHarg, Edward Milligan, Alexander Cochrane and T. Newton Barney were among the additional directors subpoenaed.

The hearing was adjourned today in order that special examiners of the commission may inspect the books of J. P. Morgan and company and personal papers of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, as they relate to transactions of the New Haven railroad.

GOV. AMMONS ISSUES MEMORIAL PROCLAMATION

DENVER, May 26.—Gov. E. M. Ammons today issued his annual Memorial day proclamation. The document concludes as follows:

"Understanding the importance of a strong nation and state all good citizens should interest their children in appreciation of those who are willing to risk their lives in defense of organized society, without which there can be no adequate protection of life or property, nor maintenance of civilization."

MINERS AND OPERATORS GIVE STRIKE INFORMATION

DENVER, May 26.—Statements of attitude in the present coal strike were presented to the joint legislative advisory committee today by representatives of the coal operators and the miners union. Both sides according to Governor Ammons, expressed a willingness to aid the committee in every possible way in composing the industrial situation in the Colorado coal fields.

A subcommittee, it is announced, will probably be named tomorrow to visit the southern Colorado fields to investigate conditions and report concerning occurrences about which there is a dispute as to the facts.

CRONIN BROTHERS ARE FOUND GUILTY ASSAULT

TRINIDAD, May 26.—Charles and Timothy Cronin, charged with assault to murder W. M. Williams, a lumber dealer here on March 25, were found guilty as charged by a jury in the district court this afternoon. The jury was out two hours.

Williams was found unconscious in his place of business the following morning. Early last week Charles McDonald, a Pueblo prisoner, confessed to the crime which he denied on the witness stand last night.

CONSTITUTIONLISTS CAN'T GET TRACE OF FEDERALS

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Rear Admiral Badger cabled the navy department tonight that a force of Constitutionalist cavalry sent out from Tampico had returned, reporting no trace could be found of General Zaragoza's fleeting federal army. A number of field guns abandoned by the federals when they evacuated Tampico were recovered.

MILITANT QUAKERS RAIDED IN LONDON

Shrapnel Grenade, Coils of Fuse, etc., Found by the Police

LONDON, May 26.—Five suffragettes who were arrested by the police during a raid on a "west end" flat, May 21, were brought before a magistrate today. After all the exhibits he took such a serious view of the case that he refused all offers of bail.

The exhibits seized in the flat included a new shrapnel grenade of ingenious manufacture, coils of fuse and plans of houses.

Memoranda were found in the flat regarding payments to militant suffragettes and also concerning traveling expenses, including a journey from Paris to England of Miss Christabel Pankhurst.

Two of the prisoners became so uproarious in the prisoners' enclosure during the hearing that they had to be removed. One of them, Miss Emeline Hall, shouted:

"I have been forcibly fed twice daily and am nearly dead as a result."

Miss Hall Half Demented.

She seemed half demented as she struggled with the police. Her hat was torn off, her clothes disarranged and her hair dishevled.

"You devils, you beasts!" she shrieked as she was carried out of the court.

Mary Spencer, who damaged a picture at the Royal academy on May 22 told the judge the only way left for women to express their views was to damage property as they respected human life too much to destroy it.

Extraordinary precautions have been taken at the Epsom race course to prevent any repetition of last year's tragic interference with the running of the derby when Emily Wilding Davison met her death by jumping on the course. A force of 2,000 police will be on duty during the race meeting. The arrangements to prevent King George and Queen Mary being subjected to annoyance by suffragettes have been made as perfect as possible.

VICTOR NIGHT MARSHAL KILLS MINER IN TRYING TO ARREST OTHER MAN

VICTOR, May 26.—Roy Dixton, night marshal here, tonight shot and instantly killed Richard Anderson, a miner.

According to Dixton, he was taking into custody Richard Carbin, a miner, for disorderly conduct, when Anderson interfered. The night marshal said he struck Anderson on the head with his revolver twice. In the second blow the weapon was discharged, the bullet striking Anderson in one eye, killing him instantly.

Dixton surrendered himself to the authorities.

CROP CONDITIONS MUCH BETTER THAN LAST WEEK

DENVER, May 26.—Crop conditions in Colorado as dependent on the weather are reported by the weather bureau in a special bulletin today as follows:

"Over the greater part of the state temperature conditions have been favorable to plant growth, but in the south central part reports indicate that the weather has been too cool. In the eastern counties continued cloudiness, frequent showers, heavy precipitation in localities and insufficient sunshine have interfered with farming operations and have retarded growth, while in the western part of the state weather conditions have been ideal for the growth and development of all crops.

"On the whole there has been an improvement of condition of all crops over the preceding week. Winter wheat and rye are doing well, also oats and spring wheat although in localities the seeding of the latter has not been completed. Conditions have been about right for the growth of sugar beets. Alfalfa and grasses are in excellent condition. Early potatoes are coming up and fruits are generally doing well. Apples are dropping in localities in the Grand valley, but at the present time this is not an evidence of an unfavorable condition of the crop."

LABOR AMENDMENTS TO ANTITRUST BILL ASSURED

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Opposition within the Democratic ranks to the demands of labor for amendments to the omnibus antitrust bill virtually collapsed today while the house was concluding general debate on the measure.

Conferences at the White house and at the Capitol resulted in an understanding that when the house resumes final consideration of the bill Thursday under the "five-minute" rule, Democratic members of the judiciary committee will be solidly behind amendments providing that labor, fraternal, agricultural and consumers' organizations shall not be held or construed to be illegal combinations in restraint of trade under the antitrust laws.

None of the acts specified in Section 18, forbidding injunctions against peaceable strikes and boycotts shall be "construed or held to be unlawful."

HATCHTOWN DAM IN UTAH BREAKS; LARGE SECTION IS FLOODED

SALT LAKE CITY, May 26.—The flood which was let loose last night by the breaking of a state irrigation dam at Hatchtown reached the Piute reservoir, 50 miles away, today. In the lowlands, farmers were compelled to take to the high ground. Several farm houses have been swept away and three bridges have been carried out. It is reported that 10,000 head of stock have been lost, while the crops on thousands of acres have been destroyed. The total loss will run upward of $200,000, it is estimated.

Circleville, the only important settlement between Hatchtown and Piute, was partially submerged and the residents all sought shelter on nearby knolls. The damage there is estimated at $—,000.

State officials who are on the scene are confident that the Piute dam will hold the flood. If so, no further damage is expected. Should it go out, certain death for many would follow in its wake, and the town of Marysville, further down the Sevier river, would be threatened with destruction.

RICHFIELD, Utah, May 26.—The dam of the Hatchtown irrigation reservoir in Garfield county, 65 feet high and 300 feet long, broke last night and released a flood which is rushing down the Sevier river valley.

Telephones and horsemen warned settlers and it is believed no lives were lost, but many persons are homeless.

Wire communication was interrupted this morning and fears are entertained for the safety of the Piute reservoir, further down the river.

The Hatchtown reservoir was part of a state irrigation project completed last year at a cost of $155,000. The reservoir held 17,000 acre feet of water in a reservoir a mile and a half long in Sevier river canon.

The break is attributed to a land slide.

PUEBLO SOON MAY VOTE TO KILL COMMISSION FORM MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT

PUEBLO, Colo., May 26.—Bearing more than 2,000 names, a petition calling for a special election to determine whether commission form of government now existing here shall be overthrown and the municipal machinery placed under the old ward system adopted three years ago, a petition was filed with the city clerk here today. The petition would make the new regime effective seven weeks after the adoption of the petition.

U. S. MARINE CAPTAIN CLOSES GERMAN CLUB

VERA CRUZ, May 26.—Captain Hooker of the marine corps, commanding a company assigned to patrol duty in the center of the city, reported today that he had been compelled to close up the German club last night, because of the noise the members made.

The members of the club took exceptions, saying that as Germans they did not recognize the right of Americans to control their conduct. Captain Hooker threatened to arrest them, and the party finally quit the building.

FAVORABLE REPORT MADE ON IMPORTATION BILL

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Favorable report on the bill to prohibit the importation of convict-made goods into the United States was ordered today by the senate manufacturers' committee.

How to Keep Your Face Free From Ugly Hairs

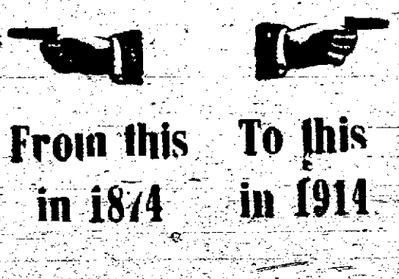

(Modes of Today).

A small, original package of powdered delatone is a necessary toilet requisite, for with its aid the skin can be kept free from hair or fuzz. A thick paste is made with some of the powder and water, and spread on the hairy surface; then in about two minutes it is rubbed off and with it comes every trace of hair. Washing the skin will remove the rest of the delatone. While this is a simple, effective method and quite harmless, you should be careful to get real delatone. Adv.

PROSPECT OF EARLY VOTE ON THE TOLLS REPEAL BILL SLIM

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Prospects for a vote in the senate on the tolls exemption repeal bill this week grew slim today, when several senators served notice they would speak on the subject Friday and it became apparent that adjournment would be taken over Saturday, Memorial day.

Senators Jones and Ransdell, both opponents of the repeal bill, spoke today.

AGENT OF ZAPATA TELLS WILSON OF PLANS

WASHINGTON, May 26.—An agent of General Emiliano Zapata and the junta having charge of the Zapata movement in central and southern Mexico is here and at the suggestion of Secretary Bryan has laid before President Wilson and the state department information intended to controvert statements that Zapata is merely a bandit and that his followers are a horde of freebooters. The agent submitted to Mr. Bryan a statement of the ideals, program and plan of campaign of Zapata and his followers, the strength of his forces and the extent of territory over which he claims control and asked that in any settlement of the Mexican problem full consideration be given to the Zapatistas as a leading element in the Mexican revolution.

The Zapatistas base their pretensions on an assertion that they represent the real uprising movement in the most thickly settled portion of Mexico, containing 75 per cent of all the population. The agent informed Secretary Bryan Zapata has an army of about 21,000. The emissary assured Mr. Bryan that Zapata and his followers would observe all the rules of civilized warfare.

ROSWELL GETS HEAVIEST RAIN IN SEVERAL YEARS

ROSWELL, N. M., May 26.—The heaviest rain for several years fell here today, an inch and a half falling in 30 minutes, accompanied by a heavy hail, damaging some apple orchards. The damage, however, is slight, as the big orchards were not struck. Hundreds of telephones were cut off from service throughout the farm section.

The eugenic marriage idea was adopted by the councilors of the association, the executive body, and will be acted upon by the members tomorrow. State care of insane was indorsed in a resolution by the councilors.

Dr. Charles F. MacDonald, president of the association, in an address, said there are approximately 200,000 persons in this country mentally defective, 150,000 to 200,000 being incurable defectives and unfit for social life.

ON BOARD U. S. S. CALIFORNIA, Mazatlan, May 25.—The Japanese cruiser Idzumo, which was at anchor in Mazatlan harbor for several days, departed today for Manzanillo because of the expected arrival of a Japanese merchantman at that port May 29. Word has arrived from Tepic that Theodore Jones, an American, held in prison there by the Federals on a perfunctory charge of murder, has been released by order of General Buelna.

Evidence of strong Constitutionalist sympathy among the citizens of Mazatlan is being shown. Officers of the American fleet while ashore today were stopped in the street by Mexicans who begged that the American launches be allowed to transport them to the Constitutionalists' lines.

They seemed disappointed when it was explained that the rules of strict neutrality prevented this.

CHAMPION RITCHIE GETS A BAD BEATING FROM WHITE IN 10-ROUND BOUT IN MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, May 26.—Charlie White, a 23-year-old Chicagoan, outfought and outboxed Willie Ritchie, the lightweight champion, in a viciously fought 10-round contest here tonight.

The Chicagoan was credited by newspaper critics with having the better of six of the 10 rounds, two were declared even, and the Californian was given the second and third rounds. Under the Wisconsin law no decision could be given by the referee.

WILLIE RITCHIE

Who lost much of his prestige in the fight with Charlie White, in Milwaukee last night.

White took the lead in the first round and had the San Francisco boy backing away from a volley of left-hand punches to the head. Ritchie's left eye was closed early in the contest, and when the lightweight champion left the ring he was a sorry looking title holder. Ritchie bled profusely from the nose and mouth as a result of White's damaging left hooks. The Chicagoan fought the cleaner battle. He seemed to have better judgment of distance and scored repeatedly with left hooks to the head.

The lightweight champion used a right swing to the head as his most damaging blow.

There was not a knockdown during the 10 rounds, but White staggered the champion in the first with right and left punches to the jaw.

They made 135 pounds, the stipulated weight, at 5 o'clock, easily.

CHIP KNOCKS PETROSKEY OUT IN TWELFTH ROUND

LOS ANGELES, May 26.—George Chip of Pittsburg knocked out Sailor Ed Petroskey of San Francisco in the twelfth round of their 10-round middleweight fight at Vernon arena tonight. Petroskey was knocked down twice in the 12 rounds, but arose on each occasion barely in time to save himself from being counted out.

EVANS ELIMINATED BECAUSE OF INJURY

Ouimet, Travers, Herreshoff and Topping Still in French Tourney

VERSAILLES, France, May 26.—The most surprising result of the first day's playing of the French amateur golf championship at the course of the Golf Club of Laoulie, was the defeat of Charles W. Evans, Jr., of Chicago, by Henry J. Topping, Greenwich Country club, Connecticut, by 2 up.

Evans was handicapped by a severe strain to his left arm, which he suffered in a fall from an automobile. On the sixteenth hole, Topping was dormy. Evans drove out of bounds from the home tee and Topping made two perfect shots to the green. The Chicago player, having then no chance to win the hole, started for the club house.

Five Americans won their way to the third round, which will be played tomorrow. They are Francis Ouimet, Jerome D. Travers, Henry J. Topping, Frederick Herreshoff and W. Bowers. Both Ouimet and Travers played excellent golf, winning their respective matches in the first round by big scores. In the second round, Ouimet defeated Charles A. Palmer, the English player, and Travers eliminated Webber.

Ouimet tomorrow will meet Lord Hope, the present holder of the French championship and the only Englishman left in the tournament. Topping will play Le Brun of Lille, one of the long est drivers in Europe. Travers and Herreshoff, who are old friends, will come together again, while Bowers will meet Apperley of Australia.

Elimination Runs Over Great Indianapolis Speedway Are Thrillers

The French driver, in his first trial in the elimination laps, sent his car down the straightaway at a speed estimated at 118 miles an hour, the fastest that has ever been seen here.

Joe Dawson, who won the 1912 race, today drove one lap unofficially in 1:34:8, beating the record recently set by Georges Boillot, in a French car. Dawson hardly had taken his car into the garage when Tetzlaff sent his racer around the course in 1:33:4.

SHAMROCK LAUNCHED ON GENERAL HOLIDAY

British Warships Boom Salute, but Not for Lipton's Fourth Yacht

GOSPORT, England, May 26.—Shamrock IV, the challenger for the America's cup, was launched here today and christened by the Countess of Shaftesbury.

The new challenger took the water on the stroke of noon. There was no hitch in the arrangements and she slid down the ways easily as the Countess of Shaftesbury, who had done similar service for Shamrock III, christened Sir Thomas Lipton's latest champion.

The hull [illegible] British flags [illegible] the Royal Ulster Yacht club. Everybody present wore a shamrock.

The British battleships of the harbor were firing a salute in honor of the queen's birthday as Shamrock IV was launched and most of those unaware of the coincidence thought the salute was for the yacht.

Lipton's Friends Guests.

Very few of the hundred guests of Sir Thomas Lipton obtained a glimpse of the yacht's hull, which has been hidden since her keel was laid is still standing. The company consisted chiefly of Sir Thomas Lipton's personal friends, but a few yachting experts were present, all of whom appeared to be greatly impressed with the boat and expressed the opinion that she had a better chance than any other predecessor, although the lateness of her launching would, it was pointed out, prove a disadvantage, as the American yachts have had a longer time in which to tune up.

Many cablegrams and telegrams with good wishes were received today by both Sir Thomas Lipton and Charles E. Nicholson, the designer.

Sir Thomas entertained his guests at luncheon after the launching.

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 26. The session on the stock exchange today may be dismissed with the significant statement that it was the dullest thus far this year, falling considerably behind last Friday's best total transactions aggregated little more than 93,000 shares. In fact to find a similarly far today's stagnation it is necessary to go back to midsummer of last year when the output for a Saturday half session was 65,000 shares.

The day began with an irregular tendency and finished in much the same way. Few representative issues made more than a fractional change.

Some notable changes occurred in the special class, however, the various issues of the International Mercantile Marine company making further response to yesterday's decision of the United States supreme court in the matter of the Titanic. General Motors rose over six points, but weakness was shown by Emmeley's, Studebaker preferred, Texas company and a few obscure securities. Gould issues again were heavy.

Bonds as a whole reflected the weakness shown by the Goulds but some of the speculative issues moved widely. Total transactions, par value, $2,125,000.

United States bonds unchanged on call.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, May 26.—Notwithstanding a strong start, wheat prices fumbled today after estimates came that the crop in Kansas would reach the huge total of 150,000,000 bushels. Closing values were steady at a range varying from ⅞ decline to an advance of ⅜. Corn finished ⅛@⅜ off to 1c up, oats ⅛ down to ¼ rise and provisions showing a loss of 12½ to 20.

Support, which had been gradually disappearing in the wheat pit gave out altogether at midday. Early buyers turned wholesale to the selling side and there was a decided crumbling of prices, except for May. That option remained in a congested state, with transactions only scattering.

Attempts of belated shorts to cover led to a bulge in May corn. A change to excellent shipping weather in Argentina tended to depress other deliveries. So also did signs of an increased domestic movement from the country.

Oats advanced to a new high figure on the present upturn, but later prospects for a break in the drought made profit taking by longs quite general.

Liquidating sales on the part of holders weighed the provision market down. Continued weakness in the hog market was responsible.

GOVERNMENT RECLAMATION POLICY ATTACKED IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, May 26.—In an attack on the government's reclamation policy the house subcommittee on permanent appropriations made a report today charging that irrigation projects were in a state of stagnation; that the intent of the irrigation law had been violated in many important respects that much of the reclaimed land is in the hands of speculators and recommending that no reclamation legislation be enacted without providing for annual estimates to be submitted to congress.

The report signed by Representative Borland, as chairman, charges that of 31 projects begun in the last 12 years not more than three are nominally finished, that some are less than 10 per cent complete and that much of the work done by the government was intended to be done by settlers.

SEN. BORAH PREDICTS PARTY AMALGAMATION

Paints Glowing Picture of Alliance Between G. O. P. and Progressives

DETROIT, Mich., May 26.—A glowing picture of the future of the Republican party reunited with the Progressive element which left it in 1912 was painted here today by Senator William E. Borah of Idaho speaking at a statewide "conference" of Republicans.

"The Republican party," said the senator, "is coming back into power. The proof of it is on every hand. The trend is unmistakable. I said a year ago that the amalgamation which would take place would be an amalgamation of the voters, not the assumed leaders. I said furthermore, that that was the only amalgamation that was worth while. The men who voted the third party ticket to the number of 4,000,000, for reasons entirely satisfactory to them, can neither be questioned as to their integrity of purpose or their patriotism. But that it was a protest and not a manifestation of purpose to permanently leave the party is now established by facts and figures which cannot be doubted.

What Is Future Task?

"Now, in view of this pronounced and unmistakable purpose of those who voted the third party ticket to ally themselves with the Republican party, in view of the determination to support its principles and its policies, what is the task before us? It is unquestionably to make our party equal to the tremendous problems which now concern us. It is to build up in this country, out of the traditions, the achievements and prestige of the past, the duties and obligations of the present, and the hopes and aspirations of the future, an organization efficient, militant and progressive—worthy of its old days and equal to the obligations which now rest upon us.

"It is our duty, in other words, in unmistakable terms to make it clear that the Republican party is to be as it was in its best days, a thoroughly progressive party. We ought not to assume for a moment or concede for a moment that, because the party bids fair to go back into power, there is going to be any compromise with the forces which brought it near its ruin.

Baneful Influence at Work.

"There is in this country a powerful influence for the bad in politics, and it will take possession of any party in the world, if it can, which is enjoying power. This kind of an influence does not fight a party in the open. It holds itself in readiness to direct the course of any party which happens to be in power. With such influences there can be no compromise if we are to have a party which is going to meet and solve the great problems which a new industrial life and a new social condition have imposed upon us.

"No man living in this splendid age, amid these exhilarating environments, can afford to permit the corroding poison of pessimism to enter his soul. But, on the other hand, the curse of our age is that cold, cruel, selfish conservatism which, living in its ease and comfort, enjoying wealth and all it brings, refuses to see or sympathize with the conditions of those who, in the midst of a world of plenty, are bordering on the line of hunger and misery, who refuse to see the new conditions or the new problems which must be met and dealt with in the same spirit and with the same courage and progressiveness that our fathers met the problems of their age. The great and almost superhuman task, my friends, is not the gathering of wealth, but its fair and equitable distribution.

"What we want in this country is a party which will do the simple but profound thing which Lincoln did; that is, gather up the common sense, the common honesty, the common patriotism, the common courage and the common righteousness of the common people of this country, and organize it into a militant, progressive, disciplined force for legal and social justice, and do it all under the constitution and laws of this blessed old republic."

Picture Slashing Suffragettes Are Sent to Prison

LONDON, May 26.—Suffragettes who slashed pictures in the National gallery and Royal Academy, together with a number of window smashers, were convicted and sentenced today. Six months imprisonment was ordered for each of the picture destroyers while the window smashers in all cases were condemned to terms of four months.

Several women refused to give their names and were identified by numbers. One frail girl collapsed in court as the result of a hunger strike and it was necessary to give her a restorative. She was carried into court by women wardens.

Freda Graham, the suffragette who slashed several valuable paintings in the National gallery on May 22, ha-

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. CHARGES AGAINST BURNS IN ATLANTA DROPPED

ATLANTA, Ga., May 26.—Charges of contempt of court against detective W. J. Burns and Dan Lelion, his employe, were dismissed here today by Superior Court Judge Ben H. Hill. Judge Hill said that while the detectives technically were in contempt for having sent a witness outside the jurisdiction of the court, they had purged themselves by returning the witness, whose testimony was sought in connection with Leon Frank's motion for a new trial on the charge of murder. Frank was convicted of killing Mary Phagan, a factory girl.

ELECTRIC COOKING ON THE BATTLESHIP TEXAS

From Electrical World.

The United States steamship Texas, the most recently constructed battleship of the United States navy, which sailed from New York on May 13 bound for Vera Cruz, is the first battleship on which coal-fired ranges have been entirely replaced by the electric type. The equipment consists of 10 ranges in the general mess galley, five in the officers' galley and two bakers' ovens.

The immense extent of the cooking operations on board this ship is only realized after considering the quantity of food prepared and the number of people served. The crew consists of 900 men and the officers number about 70. The officers' meals are a little more elaborate than those served the crew, but the quantity of food served is about in proportion to the numbers fed. Coffee, tea, boiled meats and vegetables for the general mess are prepared in steam-jacketed caldrons and therefore do not require the operation of the electric ranges. In the officers' galley, where less food is prepared, electricity is used exclusively for cooking and even boiling.

About 6200 pounds of bread is required per week, not including that consumed in the officers' quarters. Other foods have to be prepared in like quantities. A single meal requires as high as 600 pounds of meat, 75 gallons of coffee, and 150 gallons of soup. The cooking operations, named in the order of the quantities of food prepared by that method, are frying, roasting and broiling. More than half of the food, by weight, is boiled, while that baked and roasted about equals the amount fried.

The switches controlling the different parts of each range are placed in a compartment above the hot plates. The switches connected to the hot plates and oven circuits [illegible] each equipped with an auxiliary [illegible] high-heat unit [illegible] in rapid cooking.

Sufficient cooking apparatus has been installed so that under ordinary conditions it is necessary to operate only four-fifths of the ovens at one time. By leaving one-fifth of the ovens idle each week it is believed that the heating units will last a longer time.

The time required to prepare each meal depends on the food to be served. The temperature of the hot plate can be raised from normal to a working value in about 20 minutes by connecting the "high-heat" unit for five minutes at the start and using only the main element thereafter. By operating the "high-heat" units in the ovens in a similar manner the temperature can be brought up to the proper value in from 25 to 30 minutes. Only about six minutes is required to start the broiler.

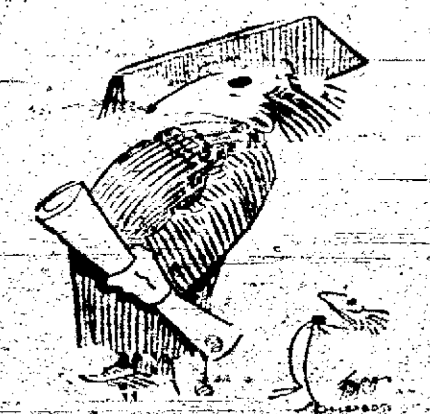

Particular care is exercised to secure economic operation of the ranges by concentrating the cooking on a few ranges so that the inefficiency of intermittent operation is avoided. The head cook supervises the operation to see that switches are not left closed when a range is not in use.

The first-class cook on the Texas declares that he considers the electric range far superior to the coal-fired type. First of all, the use of the electric type eliminates the necessity of handling coal and ashes, consequently there is less dirt present in the room where the food is prepared. The electric range is much cooler to work around, the heat being hardly noticeable even on hot days. Furthermore, he declares it is much easier to cook with the electric equipment, as the temperature is uniform.

The ranges have been in constant use on board the Texas since March 12, and since that time three meals a day for a crew of 900 have been prepared without an interruption or delay. In the general-mess galley five cooks and a head cook are required each watch. In the officers' galley there are four cooks, one for each officer's mess.

WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS SAY

"THE SOCIAL GHOST"

Tom Banners' mother is an invalid. Their money gone, and no food in the house, Tom, who is about 14 years old, starts out to find work. But he is rather small for his age, a delicate looking little chap, and no one will have him. In despair, he sinks down on a bench in the park to rest, his faithful dog, Mike, sitting ever watchful at his side.

Suddenly he is conscious of a very beautiful little girl standing before him, holding out a bag of candy. He helps himself shyly. The little girl looks at Mike admiringly, and Tom tells himself that she is the very prettiest and nicest little girl he ever has seen. But, at that moment up rushes an irate personage in cap and apron who drags his new friend away.

Tom again is in despair. He wanders round and round the park, and a half hour later finds himself by the duck pond. There he spies the little girl throwing biscuit to the ducklings. The next instant, her arms fly up and her feet slide from under her on the slippery bank. Splash! Mike pricks up his ears and dashes in after her.

That same evening, when Ethel's father goes to find the boy and the dog to reward them for saving his little daughter's life, he meets face to face the wife who deserted him 12 years before. Repentance for cruel neglect in the past speaks from his eyes as he kneels by the bedside of the sick woman. Husband and wife, brother and sister are reunited. And the father wins his boy's heart completely when he rescues Mike next day from the city dog pound.

The film will be shown at the Empress today.

GENTRY'S SHOWS

Tim L. Jolly, contracting agent for the Gentry shows, is in the city today completing arrangements for the appearance of this great trained animal exhibition which will exhibit here Friday, June 5. The show will be given on the old circus grounds west of the Bijou street viaduct. Two performances will be given.

No show, little or big, that visits Colorado Springs is more generally liked than this one, and as it has been some time since the wonderful dogs and ponies have been seen here, every youngster in town will be on the impatient list until show day comes around.

Since seen here last, according to Mr. Jolly, the Gentry's have materially increased the magnitude and importance of the show, and while it will always be referred to as Gentry's Dog and Pony show, there will be seen this year in addition to the trained animal portion of the program, many new and novel features presented by a galaxy of the highest class and highest paid circus performance procurable in this country and Europe.

Kaiser Has Sanctioned Morganatic Marriage of His Fifth Son Oskar

POTSDAM, Germany, May 26.—The engagement of Prince Oskar, fifth son of the German emperor and empress, to Countess Von Bassewitz Levetzow, maid of honor to the empress, was announced [illegible].

The prince is 26 years old.

Lively comment was aroused by the announcement of the engagement owing to the fact that the marriage will be the first morganatic union which has occurred in the Hohenzollern family since 1853.

In June of that year Prince Albrecht of Prussia, brother of the old Emperor William and then king of Prussia, married Countess Rosalie von Hohenau.

It is assumed that the emperor will confer a higher rank in the nobility on the young Countess Ina Marie von Bassewitz-Levetzow. His majesty's consent to the match is said to have been granted because of the lack of an available German princess and to his aversion to a foreign marriage for his son.

The countess was born January 27, 1888, and her father, Count Charles von Bassewitz-Levetzow, is premier of the grand duchy of Mecklenburg-Schwerin.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

IF YOUR BACK HURTS OR BLADDER BOTHERS YOU, DRINK LOTS OF WATER

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. Adv.
